Silver Drums Parade

Shirt sleeve weather drew crowd estimated at 10,000 to Beacon Hill Park last night for presentation of ceremonial silver drums to RCN Pacific Command. Band of HMCS Naden trumpeted the new drums before Lieutenant-Governor George R. Ferguson, who made the gift on behalf of the province of B.C. and Greater Victoria municipalities. ## Nikita Killed All Hopes At Geneva

GENEVA (UPI)—The British said yesterday Nikita Khrushchev must bear the "frightening responsibility" for killing hopes for a nuclear test ban treaty at the three-nation Geneva conference.

Britain's David Ormsby-Gore made the indictment at the 320th meeting of the conference which began in October of 1958. The session lasted only 20 minutes.

Ormsby-Gore flew in from London yesterday to resume temporarily the post of chief British delegate in what British sources had said was a last-ditch effort to break the impasse. He endorsed firmly the rejection by the United States of the "ultimatum" Khrushchev gave in a memorandum to President Kennedy and which was read into the record here.

THREE VICTORIES

Khrushchev's memorandum had said the negotiations on a nuclear test ban must be concluded on the Soviet terms or merged in a general disarmament conference. The Soviet proposal would set up a three-member control authority with each holding veto power over the other two.

"If the memorandum really is the last word," Ormsby-Gore said, "then the truth would be that the Soviet government has brought an effective end to these negotiations."

MORE FEMINISTIC

He said Khrushchev's "report to the people" radio and television address Thursday had made him "more pessimistic than before." And he added that he felt prospects for a successful outcome of the conference are "extremely dim."

But Ormsby-Gore said Britain supported the United States in its determination not to break off the talks but to continue to sit patiently at the negotiating table in hopes that the Soviets might have a change of heart.

HENRI COURTEMANCHE

MONTREAL (CP)—Renald Belhumeur, former general manager of Jean Talon Hospital, testified Friday that Senator Henri Courtemanche at one time asked for and received 10 per cent of all federal and provincial government grants paid to the hospital.

Testifying before a three-man board of inquiry into the hospital's administration, Mr. Belhumeur said Sen. Courtemanche, former secretary of state in the Progressive Conservative government, received a total of $37,000.

He introduced as an exhibit a document listing cheques which he said were made out to Sen. Courtemanche or to cash which was paid to the senator.

CHEQUES MISSING

Of the total, he said, $8,000 was taken from the hospital's surgical fund in the period 1957-60, and $31,000 from the hospital building fund in the period 1956-57.

Another witness said the cancelled cheques are missing.

TAXES MOUNTING

Mr. Belhumeur, administrator of the hospital from its start in 1953 until 1956, said Jean Talon was started as a private hospital by Vancouver-born Dr. George Horl, who decided to convert it into a public hospital when "we found the taxes were mounting."

He said someone—he could not remember who—had asked him to see Sen. Courtemanche at the time of its incorporation and at one time a member of its board of directors.

'BIT EXPENSIVE'

Mr. Belhumeur testified: "The first time I saw him, Mr. Courtemanche said he would expect 10 per cent of the grants. It seemed a bit expensive but we received the grants and he was paid 10 per cent."

He said Sen. Courtemanche received two $10,000 cheques and two $4,500 cheques for grants given to the hospital during the period it was owned by Dr. Horl.

LOOKED AT CHEQUES

Georges-Marie Larose, accountant for the hospital, said the cancelled cheques or vouchers for them have been missing since the visit, some time ago, of an inspector from the federal income tax department.

He said the inspector, not identified, had looked at a number of cheques and particularly noted the ones issued to Sen. Courtemanche.

COULDN'T BE FOUND

Six weeks later, he said, a man came to him with a letter from Sen. Courtemanche asking that the cheques issued to him. Mr. Larose said the cancelled cheques or vouchers for them could not be found in hospital records.

Flood Feared In Legislature

TORONTO (CP)—Fear of flooding in the provincial legislature buildings grew Friday when a mixture of silt, water and air exploded through a concrete floor in the sub-basement. Officials blamed a work stoppage on the subway because of inattention to tunnel faces.

Western Rights 'Solid' in Berlin

CHICAGO (UPI)—British Foreign Secretary Lord Home said yesterday that western rights in free Berlin cannot be taken away no matter what Nikita Khrushchev says or does.

The British foreign policy spokesman said, in reference to the Soviet dictator's demand for a Berlin treaty within six months, that "it is for Khrushchev to say whether he is going to make trouble in Berlin."

But Home said Britain and the United States will insist on the right of the people of West Berlin to "live the way they want to," on the right of the Western Allies to be there and on the right of access to the city.

POTENT WEAPONS

In a luncheon address earlier, he cited Britain's colonialism and its attitude toward neutral nations as potent weapons in the cold war.

Home said that since the Second World War, "British colonialism has established 10 fully independent nations in Asia and Africa."

FRY EMPIRE OPEN

"None of these countries," he said, "has sold itself out to the Communists."

Home said British colonialism is "an example in freedom which may be used to pry the Communist empire wide open."

In contrast, he said, wherever Communists impose their power, neutrality is killed. He said Soviet "peaceful coexistence" is a label to cover "every form of political, economic and ideological warfare."

Hottest 16th On Record

Not only was yesterday the hottest day of the year in Victoria, it was also the hottest June 16 on record.

The weather office thermometer reached 81.3 degrees at Gonzales Mill, breaking the 48-year June 16 record of 80.3 degrees in 1918. It was well into the 80s downtown.

Record high for June was 86 on June 25, 1925.

More to Come from Fleming

Canada $345,500,000 in Red

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming heads into his next budget with a $345,500,000 deficit behind him and prospects of as much—or more—red ink in the current fiscal year.

The deficit for the 1960-61 year ended last March 31, the fourth in a consecutive string now totalling $1,406,500,000, was reported in a white paper tabled in the Commons Friday. The document is a prelude to Mr. Fleming's Tuesday night budget speech that will set out the government's financial and tax plans for the future.

Speculation that he would budget for a good-sized deficit in the 1961-62 year was strengthened by his statement Wednesday that the government has "expansionist" policies aimed at creating more trade, production and jobs. These policies could mean increased spending, tax cuts or both.

Even though there should be a sizable upswing in the economy this year, the treasury probably won't get the full benefit until later.

This is because the corporation income tax, the government's second-biggest money earner, usually is a year late in showing a response to economic conditions. Thus last year, although corporation profits fell six per cent, the tax yield rose 11.7 per cent because of big 1959 profits.

Last year's $345,500,000 deficit grew in part out of the unexpected slowness of the economy.

In his first budget, March 31, 1960, Mr. Fleming forecast a $120,000,000 surplus, based on an expected six per cent rise in gross national product. In his Dec. 20 baby budget he revised this to a $286,000,000 deficit.

The actual result was the fourth-highest peacetime deficit on record.

Revenues advanced six per cent to $5,613,600,000, expenditures rose five per cent to $5,961,100,000, both records.

OTTAWA (CP)—CNR President Donald Gordon declined Friday to forecast future job opportunities on the publicly-owned railway because it could cause uneasiness among employees.

But he said the CNR is still more than able to recruit the workers it needs—and denied the lower ranks are overrun with "too many chiefs for the number of Indians."

Because of employees advancing into better jobs through technical training, he said, the trend is that "more Indians are becoming chiefs."

"We no longer use human beings as beasts of burden in railroading. All that drudgery has gone."

More Schools Honor Pupils

Student leaders in the fields of athletics and activities have been honored by their fellows and staffs at all but one high school in this area this week.

Awards days have gone into the records at Esquimalt High, Belmont High, Mount View, North Saanich, Oak Bay and Victoria High Schools. Mount Douglas awards will be presented next Friday.

UNTIL FALL

While most schools recognized students who have maintained a scholastic lead through the year, actual scholarship prizes will not be made until fall, when examination results are known.

Here are some prize winners not previously reported:

ESQUIMALT

Esquimalt High: best all-around Grade 12 student, Gwen Nelson; top prize-winner, Julia Oxendia; Barlow Memorial Plaque for sportsmanship, Marilyn Laurie and Barrie Scott (tie); sports cups, Helen Painton and Bruce Mitchell; Citizenship Cup, Bruce Mitchell.

Belmont High: staff proficiency trophy, Val Harkley;

De Gaulle Home Near Blast Spot

PARIS (UPI)—A bomb exploded last night on the fashionable Rue du Faubourg Saint Honore near President de Gaulle's Elysee Palace, injuring three persons.

The bomb, planted near a mailbox, shattered the show windows of several exclusive shops and damaged parked cars.

Green Challenge Cup and IODE $100 scholarship. Rod Kilduff; similar scholarship and citizenship award, Gordon Robillard; athletic prizes, brother and sister Mel and Sandy Spotswood.

MOUNT VIEW

Mount View: leading students Grade 12, John Chapman; Grade 11, Mike Whitfield, and Grade 10, Harold Turnham; leadership trophy, Betty Cartwright; citizenship trophy, Denise Holmes and John Chapman (tie); achievement award, Judy Flack; boys' and girls' sportsmanship cups, Garry Cooper and Mavis Crook.

OAK BAY

Oak Bay: leading students, Grade 12, Brian Hughes; Grade 11, Cathy Jeyes and Grade 10, Ken Lane; merit cup, J. J. Camp who with runner-up Beth Boyle also received $100 Parent Auxiliary scholarship; Acland Cup for sportsmanship, Murray Johnston; girls' trophy for sportsmanship, Sharon MacKay; special award for outstanding service to the school, twins Russ and Ron Morga.

The Cure is Doubtful

ON THE face of it an advertiser should be free to place his advertising where he wants; the recommendation of the O'Leary commission on publications are therefore a restriction on this liberty.

The main purpose of the commission, of course, plainly evident throughout the public hearings held, was to curb the overwhelming influence of foreign magazines, principally American, on the Canadian mind. If a Canadian culture and identity is to be established it is important that the massive indoctrination from outside sources be stayed, at least in part.

This is the reason for the recommended ban on foreign periodicals containing Canadian domestic advertising, and for wiping out the tax deductions allowed Canadian concerns in placing domestic advertising in foreign-owned magazines. By this means it is hoped that more home advertising will be placed in Canadian periodicals, which have not the immense resources of their American rivals.

Theoretically the idea is sound, and Canada would be well served if its own magazines were able to compete in readership with foreign periodicals. Canadian magazines reflect the tone and character of this country and it is desirable to foster a Canadian spirit.

It is not at all certain that these recommendations would have the anticipated effect, however. Canadian businesses might decide it worth their while to pay the increased cost of advertising in foreign periodicals and offset this by reducing the amount of advertising they place in Canadian publications.

Advertising follows circulation and people cannot be forced to read what they do not want to read. It is fact that the foreign periodicals complained of command the biggest readership in this country but the proper cure for this is to make Canadian publications so attractive that most Canadians will want to buy them. Quality counts in the long run.

It is a difficult problem but the O'Leary commission may not have provided the answer. There is merit for some sort of protection for Canadian journals in order that the Canadian ethos be developed and maintained, but the Canadian magazines themselves must do their part. If in form and content they merely imitate American magazines as some of them do, and not so invitingly for lack of resources, subsidization in the manner recommended will prove of little avail.

The commission itself emphasizes that it has no desire to create a protected haven for Canadian periodicals "and least of all a sanctuary for mediocrity." That is the danger.

It remains to be seen how far the government will go in implementing the commission recommendations, but in any case they might not result in the financial bonanza that some Canadian periodicals already see on the horizon.

A First Glance

FOR A NUMBER of years now Canadian drug manufacturers and retailers have been suspected of profiteering at the expense of the consumer. On more than one occasion a public outcry has been raised against their alleged practices.

The preliminary study made by combines investigation director D. H. W. Henry and tabled Thursday in the House of Commons by Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton indicates at first glance that these suspicions have been well grounded.

In effect, the report states that the manufacturers and retailers are solely to blame for drug prices in this country being among the highest in the world by deliberately creating a monopoly to fix the prices of Canadian drugs to virtually eliminate fair competition.

A result of this, according to the study, is that the cost to the consumer in Canada runs to about 11 per cent higher than the United States level—which is itself under severe condemnation as exorbitant by the United States Congressional committee.

Despite the fact that the drug manufacturing companies and their retail outlets have so far met this increasing criticism with only the weakest of defenses, it may yet be too soon and too unfair to pass immediate judgment upon them.

The combine investigation director's report is only a study to provide background material for a future full-scale enquiry—and should therefore not be taken as conclusive proof of any action directed against the welfare of the public.

The hearing will commence in Ottawa on July 4 and it is at that time that the drug makers and sellers will have the opportunity to state fully their side of the case.

It may be found that they are justified in conducting their operations in the present manner and if this is the case public confidence in them will be restored. If, however, it is found they cannot support their actions, then there is every reason for the government to take whatever measures it considers necessary to protect the rights and interests of the people of Canada.

The True Sequence

IT IS BEING suggested that the government has no right to smear the honor of Mr. Coyne by suggesting he is being dismissed because the Bank of Canada, of which he is governor, raised his pension. That is a distortion of the facts.

It was not the government which made this the main issue of the current controversy. It was Mr. Coyne himself who gave this point priority of place in the dispute between him and the government. It was Mr. Coyne who first disclosed to the public that he had been asked for his resignation, and who mentioned his discussion with Mr. Fleming on the subject. While he was giving his side of the case the finance minister was unaware of the disclosure.

Mr. Coyne did not reveal the whole content of his interview with Mr. Fleming. He cited the nature of the discussion but apparently in the sequence of his own choosing. In fact in his subsequent letter to Mr. Fleming the pension matter was the last of the points at issue to be mentioned. If undue attention has thus been drawn to this one factor he has only himself to blame.

When Mr. Fleming had an opportunity to reply he cited the various realms of disagreement with the governor. His main argument, even if conceding that the government did not look with favor on the pension increase, was that the obstructions of Mr. Coyne made it impossible to implement government policies.

This is the factual chapter and verse of the course of events surrounding the disclosure that Mr. Coyne had been asked to go and had refused, and that the government intends to dismiss him.

The Near East Seethes Again

By PHILLIP SYKES
Foreign Editor, Telegram News Service

THE Near East, rapidly building as the globe's newest political tinder keg, received scant attention from the Kennedy-Khrushchev "little summit" in Vienna. But it is a safe bet that, next time they meet, it will be high on the agenda—along with Berlin, Cuba and any other new East-West sources of friction.

For the Near East, long overshadowed by the convulsions developing in Asia, Africa and the Caribbean, is seething dangerously once again. The dangers could threaten both Kennedy and Khrushchev, locked as they are in a long-term tussle to win uncommitted millions to their political "camps."

The threat to Kennedy is the possible crash of the Shah of Iran from his crumbling throne. The threat to Khrushchev is an ugly prestige-wounding quarrel with the fanatical President Abdel Gamal Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Iran—strategically placed on Russia's southern border—has all the too-familiar symptoms of a society on the brink of dissolution.

There is the anxious Shah, whose wife brought him an heir to the throne, but no certainty that he will have a throne to bequeath.

Late last month, as the autocratic Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and his glamorous Queen Farah hurried home from holidays in Norway and Italy, their nation and their 19,000,000 subjects were in turmoil. Health reasons were given for their sudden departure. But it was the nation that was sick: from Norway, the Shah had telephoned an order to his army chief of staff to crush an attempted coup by a group of disgruntled right-wing officers.

There is the panic rush to reform—so often a historic prelude to revolution. In Tehran, jittery new Premier Ali Amin was purging hundreds of gixfers from the armed forces and civil service, promising elections, answering challenges from left and right with the plea: "Just give me time."

And in the countryside, a new order went out from landowner Amin. It promised land to 1,600,000 hungry peasants—the land of the feudal lords of more than 1,600 acres. With the promise went a threat: "First we will tackle those who own 150 villages and whose only talent is for drink, drugs and for beating and torturing peasants."

There are, too, the nervous protestations of loyalty to Iran's alliance with the West—through membership in the Dulles-designed Central Treaty Organization. "We abandoned neutrality."

after the last war because we realized that in two world wars we gained nothing by it," snapped Amini to questioners. "Our country was occupied and our neutrality violated."

He went on to appeal—like so many others who have assumed power in lands long ill-governed—for American money to ease the crisis. The odds looked long against Amini. As fast as he effected reforms, he had to renew repressive measures to crack the strike wave of the restless town workers and to ban demonstrations by the left-leaning National Front founded by a fiery ex-premier Mohammed (The Weeper) Mossadegh.

As he protested pro-Western fidelity, demands for neutralism were spreading among Iran's intellectuals and finding expression even in Amini's cabinet. Out of the walled-in Soviet mission in Tehran stepped Ambassador Nikolai Pegov to meet government leaders in well-timed talks aimed at improving relations between the two countries.

Once again, it was open ideological war between Nasserism and the Reds.

How big a blow to the West if Iran joined the UAR in the world's swelling neutralist camp?

It's hard to say. With a desperate Shah capable of resorting to bullets to maintain his power with an enraged Khrushchev, such a shift could be a hazardous process for the Near East and the world. But it is also just possible that it could be a step to stability.

Iran's intellectuals are going neutralist because, in any kind of war, their country would be ravaged.

The fact is that Iran has never been more than a paper partner of the West. Because of the prolonged misery of its millions, it has always been apparent that it could be rent apart in civil strife if its government ever attempted to fight for the West.

Nasser, his post-Suez dependence on Russia over, appears destined to move farther from Khrushchev's influence.

Nasser's claims to Arab leadership and ambition to be a "world statesman" drive him to ever-closer association with the uncommitted bloc, which he is now attempting to organize on formal lines.

Even so, it would be no surprise to see a discussion of great power involvement in the Near East on the agenda for the next Kand-K get-together.

reciprocal loyalty, struck by him viceriously during his trouble with the "anti-party" group, and is so closely identified with his policies that Moscow wits say: "If Furtaeva says it you can be sure Khrushchev means it..."

Britain may be confused about the absence of a Mr. Furtaeva. In fact, this is her maiden name (Russian address her as Ekaterina Alexeyevna) and she is married to Mr. Nikolai Piryubin, former ambassador to Belgrade, now deputy foreign minister.

They have an only daughter, who recently married at the age of 20: "I am delighted, her famous mother was heard saying, 'young marriages are fine, but anyway you cannot tell young people what to do these days, can you?'"

Castro Retaliates

By COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

FIDEL Castro's propaganda now are broadcasting lessons on how to foment a revolution. In obvious retaliation for Guatemala's part in the successful attempt by anti-Castro exiles to invade Cuba, Radio Havana has started trying to whip up revolutionary fervor in Central America, particularly Guatemala.

Most of the anti-Castro invaders captured in Cuba have said they received at least part of their training in Guatemala. Announcement of the new series of programs was made in a matter-of-fact fashion.

"Radio Havana," the announcer said, "will give time... to the Guatemalan Information Committee... on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights."

The first program featured a speech by Jacobo Arbenz, who was president of Guatemala until the anti-Communist revolution there in 1954. Arbenz began his talk with a double-barrelled attack on the United States and Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes. Arbenz called Ydigoras an "accomplice" of the United States in the April 17 invasion attempt.

The broadcast by the Guatemalan red, who has been a guest of the Castro regime for almost a year, made it obvious that the Cuban Communists are intensifying their propaganda attacks on Ydigoras in an effort to stir up another revolution in Guatemala.

Of course, the soft-talking Arbenz denied that Castro again "is exporting revolution from Cuba."

"We just want to liberate our people," Arbenz said. "Revolutions do not come from abroad. The people (at home) make them, when conditions are right."

Arbenz evidently is trying to make sure that the Guatemalan people are conditioned to the idea of revolution against Ydigoras. He appealed to the "democratic and heroic youth of our country," to the "farmers, intellectuals and women," to all Guatemalan "patriots," to make Guatemala "sovereign" and "free of the Yankee yoke that oppresses us."

"There must be organizations in the cities and organizations in the countryside..."

"Our program is inspired by the desire for the national liberation of Guatemala," Arbenz said.

The plan outlined by the former Guatemalan president follows the general organizational scheme spelled out by Fidel Castro's chief strategist, Ernesto "Che" Guevara, in his widely circulated booklet on guerrilla warfare.

For one thing, at no time in his talk did Arbenz mention Communism. He painted his listeners a picture of a Guatemala suffering under American oppression, which is not true, and fearful of Guatemalan police brutality, which is only partially true.

Arbenz, though, should be expert in Communist propaganda tactics. After he fled Guatemala in 1954, he disappeared behind the Iron Curtain where he was reportedly kept busy as an adviser on Latin American affairs to the international Communist movement. Later he moved to Montevideo, Uruguay, where again he was linked with the Communist network for South America.

Guatemala may be a tough nut for the Communists to crack.

President Ydigoras, a professional military man, has shown in the past that he does not hesitate to use his small but well-trained army and his air force to put down revolutionary threats. Last November he employed ground forces and twin-engine U.S.-built attack bombers to quell an uprising in the Puerto Barrios area.

Nevertheless, living conditions in Guatemala long have been poor. Some estimate that 70 per cent of the country's 3,800,000 people live in poverty. Hundreds of thousands of Guatemalan Indians do not even speak Spanish.

Misery and illiteracy are problems that cannot be solved overnight. Extremists insist that the solution must be violent to be effective.

Not even leftist governments in Guatemala had, between 1944 and 1954, made any notable progress in raising living standards, however.

Trujillo

Vicious Variety

By CAMBRIDGE
From London

THE Caribbean, the blue, romantic Caribbean with the surf booming on the coral reefs, seems to breed the more vicious variety of dictator.

Batista of Cuba was an almighty blackguard in his own right.

Castro, born of Batista's tyranny and corruption, seems little better.

General Rafael Leonidas Trujillo of the Dominican Republic seems to have combined the vices of both and the virtues (if any) of neither.

Trujillo has been neatly assassinated—or rather bumped off, for gangland's phrase fits this hoodlum better than the more orthodox descriptions of sudden death.

For over 30 years this Latin brigand has been arresting, imprisoning, torturing and murdering his opponents.

In the same way that mercy was not his strong point, his modesty was non-existent.

He did what Mussolini, Stalin and Hitler in all their megalomaniac glory never contemplated. He changed the name of the capital of his police state to that of his own.

Santa Domingo was officially redesignated by him to "Ciudad Trujillo."

He caused thousands of plaques and monuments to be erected in his own honor and hospitals bore the words "Only Trujillo Cures You" above their entrance gates.

All over the island there were flashing neon signs that said "God and Trujillo." It was regarded as a major commission that they did not read "Trujillo and God."

Nine days' national mourning were ordered and the decree read "The Benefactor of the Nation and Father of the Homeland has fallen the victim of treasonous attack."

Trujillo would have approved. It was he who conferred upon himself the title of "The benefactor of the nation."

Mr. George Woodcock, the general secretary of the TUC, has done the movement a service in warning the unions that they must come to a combined solution on defence—or leave the question of unilateral nuclear disarmament severely alone.

He said: "I hope that sooner or later it will be one of two things: that we shall eventually come to some common agreement in the interests of our members and in the light of our industrial experience or that we shall leave alone matters on which people differ irreconcilably."

The disagreement on the H-bomb has been, in the past, so deep and so bitter that it has led to union leaders at the annual Labor Party Conference hurling great blocs of contradictory votes at each other to be doubt whether the 9,400,000 trade unionists have any common denominator at all.

In the past, as Mr. Woodcock made clear, the TUC have derived by far the most of their support, and money, from manual workers.

That position is swiftly changing and, if there is to be any large-scale recruitment from the white-collar workers, the unions must agree among themselves and must have a basic understanding with the Labor Party.

Getting into the Oxbridge Universities is eye-of-the-needle stuff.

In a recent elimination contest at Cambridge 80 lads battled to get into the University. All had A levels in at least two or three subjects and all were screened with scrupulous care.

Twenty-four were admitted. At another knock-em-down-and-drag-em-out, 90 candidates applied for admission to a London engineering college. Again they were interviewed, examined and had their headmasters' reports carefully considered. Sixty-seven were rejected and only 23 admitted.

Letters to the Editor

Fountain Site

Your candid camera photos plus opinions of the man on the street seem to offer little in the way of constructive criticism with regard to the provincial government's project of a centennial fountain for 1962.

First it would appear that the location at the parliament buildings' back door is not the best either from the tourist or the public's standpoint. We should ask ourselves how many tourists wander to the rear of the buildings? Secondly, although the amount of $45,000 does not seem excessive for such an important event, the average taxpayer feels it is a lot of money for just a fountain.

May I offer an alternative suggestion that of using the embankment below the Causeway. At the present time this plot of ground is not being used to its best advantage both from a landscaping and tourist attraction set-up.

The centre of the embankment could accommodate a good-sized fountain, perhaps a modification of the present one subject to the local artists' expert approval. Colored night lighting would add considerable beauty to the main subject. The remaining portion of embankment could be made into a lovely rock-garden landscape plan with the finest shrubs and plants available in Victoria, of which there are many. Finally the aim should be to have color and beauty 12 months of the year. This can now be accomplished by an entirely new development in landscaping, thanks to the introduction of containers which permit the transplanting of shrubs and even trees any time of the year.

CLARE BRYNJOLFSON,
1190 Rock Street.

Support Welcomed

I thank the many supporters of cricket who attended the recent match between Victoria and the Australian Ems team for their generous response to our request for assistance in offsetting the cost of bringing this team to Victoria.

With the knowledge that we have the support of the cricketer public in this city we shall make every effort to answer that opportunities for future matches of this kind do not pass us by.

D. J. WARREN, President,
Victoria and District Cricket Association.

Bad Corner

As a resident of Union Street I would like to express my opinion of the new road construction at Quadra and Union Streets. As far as we are concerned it is a "death corner." If there is another car at the corner and one is turning off Quadra it is almost impossible to get around. It is a disgrace as Union is also on the fire route and very dangerous.

WALTER PHILLIPS,
1150 Union Street.

Groups Named

$25,000 for 15 City Grant List

Grants totalling nearly $25,000 and distributed among 15 local organizations were approved by city finance committee yesterday.

The 15 groups will get all but a mere $132 of the city's annual $25,000 budget item for municipal grants.

Recommended grants that will go to council for approval are:

Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association $2,600, Art Gallery of Greater Victoria $2,960, Boy Scouts' Association $200, YVCA $2,200, YMCA $3,740, Girl Guides' Association $185, Victoria Symphony Society $2,975, Queen Alexandra Solarium $425, Navy League of Canada $735, Aged Ladies' Home $4,025, Sara Spencer Foundation $2,203, Thunderbird Drum Corps $30, St. John Ambulance Brigade $1,550, Maritime Museum $750, and Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce cross-country walk $250 (previously approved and paid).

B.C. Leaders Hit Race Bias

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada's record on the race question might not have been much better than South Africa's if her problems had been as great, says Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, chairman of the B.C. Power Commission.

Dr. Keenleyside, former director-general for UN technical assistance, said Canada's record in dealing with its own Indians "has some dark passages."

"Can we honestly suggest that clubs in better residential districts are open on equal terms to all our people regardless of race, religion or color?" he asked in an address to the Canadian Dietetic Association. Meanwhile, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said Indian reserves are "racist ghettos."

He said the Indians of British Columbia should not be segregated and full responsibility for Indian affairs should be taken from the federal government and given to the provinces.

Perrault Confused Says Shrum

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. Energy Board chairman Dr. Gordon Shrum thinks B.C. Liberal leader Ray Perrault is confused about power export.

He said Mr. Perrault was confused on questions of current and future costs of producing power and the dumping of Columbia waters over U.S. dams during high runoff peaks.

Mr. Perrault this week called for use of the power for B.C. development instead of export. He claimed the U.S. is currently pumping $30,000,000-worth of two-mill power over dams south of the border.

The Energy Board chairman said water currently being pumped over U.S. dams at peak periods would be saved for power generation by development of the Columbia.

Jewel Haul $250,000

TORONTO (CP) — Thieves blasted open a diamond importing firm's safe early Friday and took $250,000 worth of diamonds—Toronto's biggest successful jewel robbery in 20 years.

The theft took place in a downtown area heavily patrolled at night by police. The safecrackers foiled an elaborate alarm system installed by the firm—J. Nunes Diamonds Ltd.—but technicians could find no evidence of tampering.

Marine, City Editor Dick Freeman Dies

Member of the Victoria Daily Times editorial staff for 35 years prior to his retirement in 1950, Richard T. (Dick) Freeman, 78, died Thursday at his home, 979 Josephine, Brentwood, after a long illness.

Mr. Freeman was born in Willingham, Northamptonshire, England, and came to Canada in 1905. After working first as general reporter in Vancouver on the old Vancouver World, he moved to Victoria in 1912, working for The Daily Colonist for four years as marine editor.

Moving to the Times, he served as telegraph editor, assistant city editor and city editor but was best known for his marine stories and interviews.

He is survived by his widow, at home; one son, Richard, at Prince George, and a daughter, Mrs. Ronald Kay, 804 Reed.

Butterfly Target in Aerial War

CATHEDRAL GROVE

PORT ALBERNI—It was science versus the pine butterfly when aerial warfare started in Cathedral Grove of Macmillan Park on Alberni Highway Friday morning.

Federal government entomologists, MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., foresters and Okanagan Helicopter Sprays Ltd. are allies in the attempt to exterminate the pest which in the past few years has killed the grove with tiny white-winged insects.

Ammunition being spread by the helicopter at an elevation of only 75 feet above the tall trees is DDT mixed with diesel oil.

Experts of the project are being shown by the provincial conservation department and MB & P. As the attack is made on the larvae of the butterfly in an area of 1,160 acres. Approximately 337 acres of the trees being covered is within the provincial park.

While foresters recognize the danger to fish from the use of DDT it was felt that in this instance the trees were of more importance. However, Dave Radcliffe, Mac-Powell forester, pointed out that protection of the game fish in Cameron River is being considered.

Harry Lorz was in charge of a provincial game branch experiment in which wooden baffles are being used in an attempt to skim the oily residue from the water of the river. Cages of rainbow trout are in position above and below the baffle to see how successful the attempt is proving.

Tom Silver, head of the federal forest insect survey at Victoria, explained that Douglas fir in the area has come under the attack of the butterfly which in several areas of the United States has taken a toll of ponderosa pine. A count started in the fall of 1959 showed seven eggs per square foot in upper branches of the fir in Macmillan Park. Last fall the population had more than doubled.

Mr. Silver explained that the feeding of the butterfly grub on the fir needles weakens old growth and decadent trees, making them susceptible to the bark beetle.

The spraying is being done with half a pound of DDT in each gallon of diesel oil. The mixture is sprayed at the rate of one gallon per acre.

The project got underway shortly after 5 p.m. but a rising wind put a stop to the work within three hours.

A spokesman for the helicopter spray service said that it is hoped that wind will diminish this evening making it possible to complete the job. It is estimated that nine hours of spraying will be required to complete the job.

Jet Crew Windblown

COMOX—A canopy blew off a United States RB-47 aircraft during a filming flight here today but the only consequence was a breezy ride back to the RCAF base for the crew.

The plane was one of four here for a two-day stint of making film for NORAD training. A USAF ground crew of 20 accompanied the planes.

Main subject of the films was electronic counter-measures or in simpler terms, how to jam radar tracking from the air.

Voodoo 'New Blot'

MALTON, Ont. (UPI)—Prominent Liberal Paul Martin last night said the federal government's scrapping of the Avro Arrow and the recent acquisition of the MacDonnell Voodoo jet was a further demonstration of "their incredible incompetence and lack of foresight."

Martin (L-Essex East) told a Liberal nominating convention for the Malton riding that Prime Minister Diefenbaker was wrong in cancelling the Arrow—"an unbelievably cruel and wasteful act"—and wrong today.

Speaking of the Arrow affair, Martin said "this wanton desecration of a great Canadian achievement will long remain as a blot on the government's record."

"Now two years later, the government finds itself in the position of having to acquire a less suitable American plane. They have demonstrated again their incredible incompetence and lack of foresight."

Martin said the MacDonnell

Voodoo was being acquired "to do the very job the Arrow was designed for." He added, however, the Voodoo was "not in a class with the Arrow which was the best interceptor in the Western world."

Evacuation Warning

Huge Fire Nears Big B.C. Ranches

QUESNEL (CP)—Residents of four ranches have been warned to stand by for evacuation in the face of the biggest forest fire in the Cariboo this year. It has covered 5,000 acres in an area 30 miles southwest of here.

Forest service officials said the fire was heading for the Vogelar ranch and was within three miles of another ranch. Two ranches further from the fire also were considered in danger.

Six bulldozers are being used to punch a road into the area so guards can be built.

The fire, reported burning along a 4½-mile front, was visible from a helicopter as soon as it took off from Prince George, 60 miles north of here.

The machine was to be used to rescue the bulldozer men if they should be trapped by the fire.

The fire hazard is approaching the danger level in the Vancouver forest district.

A huge Martin Mars water bomber owned by Coastal Timber Operators was given credit for bringing a dangerous 40-acre blaze under control in a narrow valley near Tahsis.

B.C. Forest Products has closed operations at Port Renfrew, Pitt Lake and Cowichan and Capwon Zellerbach has ceased activities at Nitinat Lake and Courtenay.

NELSON (CP)—A greater Japanese market for lead, copper and zinc ores and concentrates was forecast at the B.C. section meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy Friday.

Shotaro Yabushita, western manager of the giant export-import firm of Mitsui Co. Ltd., told 100 delegates from western Canada and the U.S. expanding Japanese industries in the next four years will require larger imports of ore, especially copper and zinc.

At present Japanese companies have $200,000,000 worth of long-term contracts with the B.C. mining industry. Or, as one delegate put it, "Japan is keeping the B.C. mining industry alive."

Mr. Yabushita said his company's interest in the mining industry is in three stages:

• Outright purchase of ore and concentrates from a mine operating or going to operate;

• Financial participation (loan or investment) with a Canadian company for a mine or property going into production;

• Participation in exploration and development of a new or old property.

Mysterious Blasts -Then School Fire

LAC LA BICHE, Alta. (CP)—Two explosions in rapid succession Friday preceded an intense fire which levelled the one-storey high school building at Lac La Biche, 130 miles northeast of Edmonton.

All students and teachers were out of the building at the time. Flames enveloped the building almost immediately, and firemen concentrated on saving nearby buildings.

The new building provided instruction for pupils in Grades 9 to 12. Origin of the explosions is not known.

94th Convention

Canada's Doctors Head for Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 1,500 Canadian doctors will be here next week for the 94th annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association.

Program for the five-day convention covers both scientific and social aspects of medicine, with the scientific side featuring teaching sessions designed to bring general practitioners up to date on new developments in diagnosis and treatment.

More than 100 doctors, including specialists from Europe and the U.S. will participate.

Experts on Wildlife 'Publicity Seekers'

OTTAWA (CP)—Delegates to the 25th annual federal-provincial wildlife conference wound up a two-day session Friday after being scolded by a federal research official for alleged publicity-seeking tactics.

Dr. Henry Hurtig rapped the conference for a resolution passed last year in which delegates called for an investigation into possible harmful effects pesticides used in farming or forestry might have on humans and wildlife.

They asked Canadian and U.S. game officials to take steps to stop, modify or control use of the chemicals if harmful effects were verified. Dr. Hurtig, whose department is responsible for research into the pesticides, said the resolution was passed "despite lack of objective documentation of specific Canadian problems."

"It had the mood and effect of stepped-up, sensation-seeking publicity," he charged.

Afternoon discussions were closed as the conference studied game bag limits and seasons. Length of this meeting wiped out consideration of the hazard posed by large flocks of birds nesting near major airports.

NEW YORK — French airlines hostess Marcelle Christmann, 36, collapsed in tears and had to be helped from a courtroom after she was sentenced to 10 years in jail on charges of smuggling heroin into the U.S.

Freight Rig Wrecked Dodging Motorcycle

PORT ALBERNI—An Island Freight transport trailer and the diesel unit hauling it were wrecked on Port Alberni Highway at Rogers Creek fill Thursday night. The driver escaped injury.

The trailer collided with the metal railing of the fill as driver Kenneth Walz, 1115 Redford, Port Alberni, swerved to avoid striking an approaching motorcycle which had swung wide on a curve.

The impact with the railing uncoupled truck and trailer and the units went into the ditches on both sides of the road. A load of paper rolls in the trailer smashed through the front end.

RCMP said that driver of the motorcycle was not identified.

Only Mrs. Naysmith Trying For Place on B.C. Golf Team

Ten Victoria area golfers are among the 48 entrants in the annual B.C. ladies Close Golf Championship which starts next Monday at Vancouver's St. George's Golf and Country Club but only Shirley Naysmith is trying for a place on the B.C. team for the inter-provincial matches.

Mrs. Naysmith was a team member last year along with Dorothy DeGirolamo of Victoria and Judith Wilson and Gail Hitchens of Vancouver. Mrs. DeGirolamo has decided to pass up both the team trials and the B.C. Close but Mrs. Naysmith will still have plenty of competition for her spot.

Miss Hitchens and Mrs. Wilson will be trying again, as will Colleen Smith, who is always a strong contender. And favored above all to make the B.C. team is Janet McWha, a former Quebec team player now resident on the lower mainland.

A point system of scoring based on the best five of six medal rounds will again decide the four places on the B.C. team. Qualifying rounds in the Vancouver and Victoria City tournaments and the B.C. Close, a special medal round at Seymour today and three medal rounds in Victoria are the test rounds.

Golfers trying to make the team must play in five of the seven, can play in six and count their best five scores. Points are worked out on a system which gives a golfer 10 points for a par round and one less for each stroke over par. A minus score is recorded for each stroke more than 10 over par.

Mrs. Naysmith has a minus two score at the moment, scoring a 12-over-par 86 in the Victoria City qualifying round. She plans to play in today's round at Seymour and the three test rounds here next month as well as in the Close championship.

Margaret Todd, who recently won the city championship for the 10th time, will also compete in the B.C. Close but is not trying for the B.C. team. Other Victorians competing in the Close are Mrs. G. Harris, Mrs. H. MacKenzie, Mrs. F. Skillings, Mrs. W. Pasmore, Mrs. F. Elias, Mrs. R. Foster, Miss A. Kelly and Mrs. G. Ford.

Tomorrow, the Hunting Cup match between teams of 12 from Victoria and Vancouver will be played at Seymour. There will be 12 individual matches with three points at stake in each—one for each nine and one for the full round.

Representing Victoria are Mrs. Naysmith, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Joan Lawson, Mrs. DeGirolamo, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. H. Mearns, Mrs. T. A. P. Jackson, Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Edna Hay, Mrs. Lillian Thirlwell, Mrs. Rene Robbins, and Mrs. Elaine Saunders.

THE PALMER METHOD

by Arnold Palmer

PUTTING IS Largely A LEFT-HANDED PROCEDURE

1. IN PUTTING, THE LEFT HAND PROVIDES DIRECTION AND THE RIGHT HAND PROVIDES POWER. SINCE DIRECTION IS USUALLY MORE IMPORTANT THAN POWER (A GOLFER SHOULD BE ABLE TO HIT ANY PUTT UNDER 20 OR 30 FEET HARD ENOUGH TO REACH THE HOLE), I PAY PARTICULAR ATTENTION TO THIS LEFT HAND.

AT ADDRESS, I WANT THE BACK OF MY LEFT HAND TO FACE SQUARELY IN THE DIRECTION I WISH THE BALL TO FOLLOW.

2. THE GRIP I USE, THE RUBBER CUPPLER, IN WHICH THE FINGERS OF MY LEFT HAND OVERLAP THE BACK OF MY RIGHT FINGER, MY GOLF WITH THE LEFT HAND IS FIRMER THAN WITH MY RIGHT, ESPECIALLY ON SHORT PUTTS. I DON'T WANT THAT COMPACT NO-WAVE OR LIFT ON THE BACKING, THE BACK OF MY LEFT HAND AND WRIST FORM A FAMILY STRAIGHT LINE.

3. EVEN IN THE FOLLOW-THROUGH OF A PUTT, MY LEFT WRIST FACES THE TARGET FOR AS LONG AS POSSIBLE, IN ORDER TO ASSURE A STRAIGHT FORWARD STROKE. I DON'T ALLOW MY LEFT WRIST TO BREAK AFTER IMPACT.

More Help for Halfbacks

Imports Beef Up Lions' Line

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions have signed 10 new United States college players for the 1961 Western Football Conference season.

Eight of them are interior linemen, which gives head coach Wayne Robinson reason for this statement:

"We hope we've strengthened the interior portion of our offensive line over last year."

He made it as Lions prepared for the opening of training camp here June 26, hopeful that their off-season shopping will add enough strength to assure a conference playoff berth after last year's fourth-place finish.

Washington quarterback Bob Schloredt and Ohio halfback Clyde Thomas are the only new imports backs coming to camp and there isn't a new American among the nine ends signed up.

But Robinson has received three new tackles, three new guards and two new centres to bolster both defensive and offensive lines and to give speedy halfbacks Willie Fleming and Bob Jeeter, former Iowa teammates, more running room than they got last year.

ALL-AMERICAN

Most notable among the new linemen is Tom Brown, six-foot 240-pound guard who won all-America rating from almost everyone last season while with Minnesota.

Other new guards signed are Joe Wendryhowski of Illinois and Bob Loxler of New Mexico. New tackles are Bill Eulich and Mel Semenko from Colorado University and Don McKinnon from Memphis State.

Tom Majovsky from Youngstown University and a six-foot three-inch 235-pounder whose signing hasn't been announced are the centres.

WISH WE LUCK ON MY FIRST DATE IN HARMONY, DESMOND.

ALL THE BEST, SIR. I'M ONLY SORRY YOU DON'T HAVE A HANGOVER TO STRIKE.

THIS TOWN CRIES A SWEET, I HAVE THE STRANGEST FEELING I'M MY OWN GRANDFATHER.

OH, DEAR, HERE HE COMES, I'LL HARDLY KNOW HOW TO ACT.

MY SPORTS CAR ISN'T ACTING RIGHT.

ED'S GARAGE

WOULD YOU TAKE A LOOK AT THE MOTOR?

ALL THE MECHANICS IN THIS TOWN, AND I HAVE TO PICK A WISE GUY!

OF COURSE, SIR.

JONES + BODEN

YOU MAY BE SUCCESSFUL IN PROVING THAT SUE'S MOTHER IS NOT CAPABLE OF TAKING CARE OF HER CHILD, MRS. MONTETH!

YOU CAN BET ON THAT, DR. MORAN!

AM NOT SURE TO BET ON THAT, BUT I MIGHT MAKE A WAGER ON SOMETHING ELSE!

AS A MATTER OF FACT I WILL MAKE A WAGER THAT I CAN PROVE TO THE COURT'S SATISFACTION THAT YOU'RE NOT FIT TO HAVE CUSTODY OF SUSIE!

I'LL BET MY ENTIRE BANK ACCOUNT, MY CAR, MY HOUSE AND MY WIFE!

YOU'RE HOME EARLY? WHAT HAPPENED?

I LOST TWO DOLLARS AND DECIDED IT WAS TIME TO QUIT.

THERE'S DIGNITY TO A JOB IN JIM HASTINGS' FIRM. I DON'T YOU UNDERSTAND THAT?

NO, I DON'T UNDERSTAND THAT.

THERE'S NO DIGNITY IN MY GETTING A JOB BECAUSE MY FATHER HAPENS TO BE A FRIEND OF THE COMPANY'S PRESIDENT.

YOU LISTEN TO ME, SON! I KNOW WHAT'S BEST FOR YOU! TOMORROW I'M TAKING YOU DOWN TO MEET JIM HASTINGS! I'LL WANT YOU TO BE PLEASANT AND COOPERATIVE... TO MAKE A GOOD IMPRESSION!

SHALL I TAKE DOWN THE GRAPES I MADE IN MY TWO SEMESTERS AT COLLEGE? THAT SHOULD MAKE A REAL TERRIFIC IMPRESSION!

DO YOU REALLY CARE, ARCHIE?

BETTY! ARE YOU GOING OUT WITH THAT CREEPY HOMER PIGEON?

SURE! I WAS GOING TO BORROW A PIN FROM HIM TO TAKE VERONICA OUT!

OH!

HOMER ALWAYS TELLS ME I'M PRETTY!

BETTY, IF HE TOLD YOU THAT YOU'RE PRETTY...

HE'LL FIB ABOUT OTHER THINGS TOO!

ONLY THESE HILLBILLIES, AN' US, KNOW THE HORRIBLE TRUTH ABOUT MOCKARONI. THEY WON'T EAT IT—AND WE MUSTN'T!

SO, FROM NOW ON, YOU CAN EAT ANYTHING ELSE YOU WANT—AND AS MUCH OF IT AS YOU WANT!

BUT, I'LL—SOMEBODY GET FATTER!

DON'T YOU GET IT, BABY?—AS THE PUBLIC GETS THINNER, THE MORE GLAMOROUS YOU, IN ALL YOUR FATNESS, WILL BE!

QUICK, DAWOOD—SLIP THIS DRESS ON, SO I CAN RAISE THE HEM!

STAND STILL, SO I CAN GET IT STRAIGHT!

OH, DEAR—IT TOOK SO LONG, I'M AFRAID WE'RE GOING TO BE LATE FOR THE PARTY!

WELL, I'M READY—ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS PUT ON ONE OF MY SUITS!

OH, I'VE HAD A BUNCH OF WIFE TALKING ABOUT WARS AND STAYS AND PARADES AND OTHER HIGH DINKS.

HAVE FUN!

I NEVER BEEN ONE FOR BUSTLES AN' DRUMS AN' HORSES SKITTIN' AROUND WITH BRASS ON A BACK—EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE I WAVE A FLAG.

USUALLY IN THE BACKROOM IN FRONT OF THE MIRROR.

HE, I QUISLY MURDER "HURRAY" ONCE IN WHILE, I GOTTA ADMIT.

Y'KNOW, I THINK IT'S PEOPLE LIKE US WHO TAKES THE CITY OUT OF WAR.

WELL, GET DRAKE! SO THIS KAY-SHAKER SHERIFF HAD TO CALL IN THE BIG TOWN COPS TO MAKE HIS PHONY RAP STICK!

I DON'T THINK I'LL BE HARD TO SHOW THAT YOU KILLED MCKENNA IN HIS HOUSE, "GIGGLES!"

GO ON AND TRY! I SAY I WAS NEVER OUT OF MY CAR! JUST TRY TO PROVE I'M LYING!

SHERIFF—LET ME HAVE HIS SUIT AND SHOES—FOR ONE HOUR!

Busy on Two Jobs

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRER

If you consider for a moment the nature and habit of growth in the raspberry, you will realize these plants are under a terrific strain at this time of the year.

In apples and pears and similar fruits, once a tree has put its energies into pushing out a branch, that same branch can carry a crop of fruit every year for many years to come. When fully grown, the tree can take it easy on the job of making branches and turn all its attention to the production of fruit. Not so the raspberry.

An individual raspberry cane lives for only two years. It comes up from the perennial roots one year, bears fruit the following year, then dies or is cut to ground level to make room for the hatch of new canes coming along. The roots, therefore, can never take it easy on the production of canes—they must set and ripen a crop of fruit on the two-year-old growth and at the same time push up enough new canes to carry next year's crop.

This is why the raspberry is known as such a heavy feeder. The overworked roots, doing two jobs at once, must have plenty of food and water and, when neglected in this respect, the fruit will be small and seedy and full of pipe and the new canes will be thin and scrawny.

There is nothing to beat a heavy mulch of mellow old manure over the roots of such hungry feeders, topped up annually with more of the same. Don't bother to dig it in; our good friends the earthworms will do that for you. In any case, you can't go digging or hoeing very deeply around raspberries without damaging the shallow roots.

Mind you, manure is not a complete plant food for raspberries, for even a very good sample may be a bit short on potash, iron and magnesium for these demanding plants. It is true that manure contains a lot of odds and ends not found in commercial fertilizer—hormones and auxins and various glandular products—but the ideal raspberry diet is plenty of manure plus a complete chemical fertilizer.

Because raspberries also need lots of water, it seems only good sense to feed the fertilizer in the water, which means buying the highly concentrated, soluble "instant" kinds.

At first sight, the cost of such fertilizers may put you off, for a tin of Instant Vigoro, a carton of Old Gardener or a small bag of Green Cross Lawn Green may set you back as much as a whole sackful of the ordinary kind. It goes a long way, though, using only one level tablespoonful per gallon of water—rather like instant coffee as compared with bag coffee—and doesn't cost any more per unit of plant food.

The price will vary between one brand and another but you get pretty well what you pay for. The more expensive kinds will be reinforced with boron, iron, magnesium, manganese and similar trace elements.

Hollywood Today

By Sheilah Graham

This Is THE Life, Ralph!

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" TV show will not be seen when the new season starts in the fall. However, since Ralph still has one more year under his NBC contract, the network will be paying him $1,500,000 for the 1961-62 season. This is your life, Ralph Edwards! But because Ralph likes to work as a performer, in addition to producing several daytime and one nighttime series, he will probably host one of the hour-long TV series in the fall. For this, of course, he will be paid separately.

Groucho Marx, another NBC personality, will also be missing from his usual spot next season. There was a rumor that Groucho would fill in the Jack Paar show time during the summer. I doubt it. Groucho doesn't need the money, and he doesn't want to work that hard.

Jerry Lewis will take over the entire Paramount Studio for his next movie, "The Errand Boy." It's the story of a man who inherits a studio, and comes in secretly as an errand boy to learn the business before revealing his identity. I can see where Jerry will have fun, but will Paramount?

Richard Widmark, encouraged by his success with "The Secret Ways"—for his own company—will make another, "The Tigers Roar," about America's atom-bomb bases in Europe.

George Maharis, who starred in "The Zoo Story" in New York, off Broadway about two years ago, will return to Manhattan to star in the movie version. George is now starring in the "Route 66" TV series, but will make the movie during his summer TV hiatus.

Montgomery Clift, another actor who wants to direct, hopes to do this on David Ben-Gurion's play of the week, and would like to make his directing debut on TV with F. Scott Fitzgerald's story, "The Rich Boy."

Charlene Haden, a perfectionist, had former tennis champ Gene Mako supervise the laying-out of his new tennis court here. Chariton, who has made so many films abroad, would like his next one to be right in Hollywood, to enjoy his new home—and tennis court.

MGM is holding up the costly "Charlemagne" movie until some of the money starts rolling in from the studio's other costly epics, such as Glenn Ford's "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and the hoped-for millions from "King of Kings."

Louis Armstrong, the one and only Satchmo, is producer Frank Ross' choice to do the off-screen trumpeting in "Mister Moses," the Max Catto novel of present-day adventure in Africa to be filmed by Frank on a $6,500,000 budget. Ross is rich from "The Robe," the first movie in Cinemascope.

King Fisherman

Off Cape Mudge

American's Coho in Front

New leader of the coho division of the Daily Colonist King Fisherman contest is Walter Kropp of Albany, Ore., with a 12-pounder caught off Cape Mudge on a green, white and gold bucktail.

Ed and Louise Clement of Palm Springs, Calif., have been sticking by the outer kelp beds of Quadra Island and taking their limit consistently.

Gresvig parvane spoons and Jensen crocodile lures are proving trout fishing in lower Campbell River the hottest spot for spring and blueback. Between Butler's Point and Marina Island is best.

Almost any lure is catching coho and spring which showed up in the Duncan waters Thursday.

Saanich Inlet is still giving up the best fishing so far this year, with a goodly number recorded from the Goldstream end.

Campbell Lake is good on the fly and one of this month's hidden weight prizes will be an expenses-paid weekend at Forbes Landing on Lower Campbell Lake.

Don't Be Too Hasty Drew Warns Britain

GEORGE DREW

Ultior Motive?

John D Tactics Suspect

LONDON (CP) — A British magazine describes Prime Minister Diefenbaker's proposal for a Commonwealth conference on Britain's relations with Europe as a natural attempt to "pull Canada's own special chestnuts out of the fire."

The Economist, a weekly specializing in business and world affairs, says it is easy to understand why Diefenbaker proposed the multilateral conference and why Prime Minister Macmillan resisted the idea, preferring to undertake bilateral negotiations first.

HARSH TIME

"The problem of the British approach to Europe has come at a harsh time for Canada, which is smarting under some of the recent political and economic implications of its dependence on the North American market and is looking with a correspondingly fresh yearning for what it would like to be a Commonwealth alternative."

OBVIOUS RESULT

The Economist adds that a conference of Prime Ministers or even of finance ministers at this stage would result in an obvious pressure for "parity of concessions, irrespective of worth."

Diefenbaker's proposal was made a week ago.

NO DIVERGENCE

He has since stressed he proposed a conference of prime ministers only if it proved necessary and Macmillan has said there is no "divergence" in the British and Canadian approach.

Duncan Sandys, Britain's Commonwealth relations secretary, is to visit Canada shortly as part of Britain's bilateral discussions with Commonwealth countries.

Guard Rights —Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Friday there must be "no unfair interference or diminution in our trading rights" in any British move to join the European Common Market.

LONDON (CP) — George Drew, Canadian high commissioner in London, gave reasons Friday why Britain should study its Commonwealth ties closely before making a decision on joining Europe.

Addressing the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain, he said British exports to Canada could be more than doubled "in a very short time."

Reiterating arguments he has put forth in previous addresses to British businessmen, Drew said there is no single country in Europe where any similar opportunity exists for a sudden expansion of British export trade.

Drew added:

LOOK AT LEFT

"We have urged and we shall continue to urge that British exporters look at the list of things we are buying from the United States and go after that market by hard, vigorous, imaginative selling with supporting services which will maintain the sales."

Drawing a comparison between British sales to Europe and the Commonwealth, Drew said:

"Britain sold goods last year to the present members of the Commonwealth with a value of £1,337,887,551. That is more than £300,000,000 above the total figure for all exports to every country in Europe west of the Iron Curtain."

Troops Leave For Angola

LISBON (Reuters) — About 3,000 men, the biggest single contingent ever sent to Portuguese overseas territories, left Thursday for troubled Angola aboard the Portuguese steamers Ulge and Mocambique. Another contingent of about 100 troops embarked on the steamer Ana Mafalda with arms for Portuguese Guinea.

Wearing Old Clothes New Royal Fashion

LONDON — It's really fashionable to wear your old clothes. The royal family has made it official. At all places, the ultra-fashionable Royal Ascot races.

Queen Elizabeth is wearing the outfit she wore on her spring state visit to Rome. Princess Margaret wore the pink satin coat she had on at a Buckingham Palace garden party last year.

Her husband, Prince Philip, turned up in an Edwardian frock coat which, he said, "I dug out of a box in the attic."

PARIS — Rudolf Nureyev, 23, star male dancer of a Soviet ballet troupe, made a dramatic break to freedom, shaking off two burly Russian guards, at an airport and gaining protection of French police.

BERLIN — Mayor Willy Brandt called West Berliners to a gigantic rally at city hall today to show Nikita Khrushchev and the world they are not afraid of his threats.

LOS ANGELES — Rodney Perdue inserted this ad in the Los Angeles Times' classified section: "Because today marks 15 years she has been my bride and because she has given me four wonderful children and has been most helpful to keep my home a sanctuary in this confused and troubled world, I am happy to declare I am responsible for all debts incurred by my wife, Elizabeth Perdue."

European Common Market. Britain should look to the long-term view of conditions in Europe.

INTO FUTURE

The Commonwealth, with more than 650,000,000 people, is "the market which challenges the imagination of every one with eyes to see into the future."

Young Killers' Claim:

Whole World at Fault

AURORA, Colo. (AP) — One cocky and defiant, the other relaxed and reticent, two teenage admitted killers began the last lap of a journey to justice Friday.

"I'm kinda looking forward to hanging," said George York, 18.

York and James Latham, 16, are being returned to Sharon Springs, Kan., to be arraigned for one of seven slayings they have boasted of. Captured a week ago in Utah, they cheerfully admitted a "wave of terror" through five states.

York rambled at length to a reporter after a dinner of cheeseburgers and a milk shake. He mused:

"I always kinda wanted to know what it's like on the other side, and now I'll get to see. We'll be able to sit over there and laugh at the rest of you guys trying to figure out what's going to happen."

"Yeah, we'll already know."

The sandy-haired youth, intense and moody, once nearly shouted: "You can't blame us for what we did and you can't blame our parents. It's the whole damn world's fault."

"Everyone believes in the idea of one man stomping another for his own gain, that's the problem."

Laos Talks Thrown Into Gloom

GENEVA (CP) — The Soviet Union threw the 14-power conference on Laos into gloom Friday night by rejecting a Canadian proposal for adequate air equipment for the peace mission in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green said the rejection by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko put the conference in "an extremely difficult" position.

Czech Sought Secrets U.S. Protests to UN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. said Friday it had demanded the ouster of a Czech UN official who tried to force U.S. secrets out of an American by threatening his fiancée behind the Iron Curtain. She has since come to the U.S.

The state department also said the American, working with FBI agents, strung along the Czech official for a year, leading him into secrets.

The Czech involved in the bizarre case is Miroslav Novacek, his country's No. 3 diplomat at the UN. For some time, according to the state department, he indicated he wanted to defect to the U.S. This turned out to be a ruse. The state department issued its report on the case after the Czech UN mission had made public its version in a complaint filed with the world organization.

In the Czech version Novacek was a Communist hero who was ordered out of the U.S. after he refused attempts by agents to recruit him as a spy. According to the Czechs, Novacek "rejected with a resolute protest this brazen offer."

Adlai-Haters Broken Up

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Police last night used tear gas to break up a march by 150 Communist students demonstrating against the visit to Peru of Adlai Stevenson.

They Said It Couldn't Be Done

It's the Berries Under Saanich Sun

Aching Novice Stoops for Living Wage

By TED PULFORD

Deep inside the Saanich Peninsula, on a farm owned by George Doney, a pint-sized man with a crippled hip picked enough strawberries yesterday to put the choice fruit on half the restaurant menus in Victoria.

By 5 p.m., he was on his way home with $15 cash for nine hours' work.

If one man can walk away from a berry patch with a bundle like that, what about the complaints circulating among workers in Victoria that one can't make eating money picking strawberries?

I spent the better part of a day yesterday, crawling around on my hands and knees in a strawberry patch looking for the answer to this one.

Here were some of the things I learned.

Even a fumble-fingered, six-foot-four-inch elephant like myself can make a living picking strawberries—but he won't put any money aside for his old age.

Rank novice though I was at the business, I found that my pride suffered considerably more than my back during my time in the fields, because 14-year-old children—namely grins and all—were picking three berries to my one and not complaining a bit.

Clumsy as I was, I still managed to pick enough berries to bring me a little less than $1 an hour.

After listening to stories that the work was impossibly hard and that a picker could only earn $3 for a day's work, I was surprised to find that the 10 or 12 pickers working in Mr. Doney's patch were averaging $6 a day and having plenty of fun doing it.

While he weighed in the berries I hadn't eaten and I massaged the shrieking joints in my back, Mr. Doney admitted that other pickers on the peninsula may not have things quite as comfortable as I have suggested.

His three acres of berry patch is obviously a labor of love for Mr. Doney who bluntly announces to anyone who will listen that he has "the best doggone strawberries in Canada."

On other less productive farms, a slight increase in the basic rate of four cents a pound for pickers might encourage them more. An extra cent a pound would mean much at the end of the day.

On one of the several farms I visited after my picking stint, I found one family—complete with three teen-aged children—making a picnic out of a day in the berry patch.

Besides the fresh air, sunshine, exercise—and free strawberries—they were able to return home from their outing almost $30 richer.

Before you head for a day among the strawberries, however, here are a couple of hints.

Watch out for the sun. Every strawberry man on the Island will tell you hair-raising tales of city folk who wore too little and had the skin burned off their backs.

Take along a light—but ample—lunch with some salt on the food. It's a long day without it.

Anyone interested in spending a day picking strawberries need only call the National Employment Service and ask for the Farm Labor Division. You'll get a royal reception.

Don't Set Fire To the Forests

Picnickers and campers have been urged by forestry officials to be extremely careful of fires this weekend.

No forest closure is in sight, but the fire hazard is "high" at picnic grounds and campsites throughout Vancouver Island, said a spokesman.

The hazard is "moderate" and increasing in heavily timbered areas. Lack of rain is expected to increase the hazard in all areas.

All Hands on Public

Appeals Seek Feast in 1962

Tent Thief Steals Away

The children of Mr. and Mrs. George Kintoff, 1746 Fort, may have to cancel their holiday plans this summer, unless an unkind thief has a change of heart.

The new 9 by 12 ridgepole tent had been put up in the side yard for the children to play in prior to their holidays. As soon as school was out they planned a camping vacation.

The children are heartbroken at the thought they may lose out on their holiday, Mrs. Kintoff said.

A serious overdose of charitable appeals for capital purposes is shaping up for the Victoria public in 1962, according to J. Stuart Keate, director of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Keate told directors at their monthly meeting yesterday that plans were being made to raise more than $2,500,000 in Victoria next year. The YMCA, the YWCA, the university, St. Joseph's Hospital and Christ Church Cathedral were among those he named as potential fund-raisers.

Mr. Keate said that if all the appeals were made in one year, they might all fail in their objectives, and he labelled this a serious matter for the community.

10,000 Lavish Applause On 'Inspired' Drum Rite

By IAN STREET

The crowd estimated at more than 10,000 waited expectantly as the drummers poised their sticks to begin the first roll of drums.

The six side drums and two tenor drums began softly, building to a crescendo, then dying in the soft evening air. The silence that followed was broken by a single hoarse note from the bass drum.

It was the signal for the brass instruments in the band of HMCS Naden to join in as the drummers, bearing the new ceremonial silver drums of the RCN Pacific Command, began a slow march through the ranks of the band while the audience stood and applauded.

REAR-ADMIRAL.

The applause continued in waves while the band trooped its silver drums past the blue jackets lining the parade square in front of the packed stands.

Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes presented the drums to the Pacific Command on behalf of the municipalities of Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, and of the province.

The gift was formally accepted by Rear-Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes, flag officer, Pacific Coast.

INSPIRED IDEA

The admiral said the ceremonial parade was the "culmination of an inspired idea" hit upon by the Armed Services Centre committee and adopted by Greater Victoria and B.C. as a gift to mark the 50th anniversary of the RCN last year.

"In the years ahead," he said, "these nine lovely silver ceremonial drums will enhance the appearance and the music of the naval band and will be borne proudly in a place of honor whenever the Royal Canadian Navy is on parade."

He said the "at will be a remind of the "common bond of fellowship" between the RCN and the people of B.C.

Mr. Pearkes congratulated members of the band and the 100-member royal guard drawn from naval technical apprentices attending the fleet school at HMCS Naden on what he termed "your excellent turnout."

EQUALLY SURE

"I am sure every man on parade knows that he has done well," he said, "and I am equally sure every one in this great crowd of spectators has been thrilled and touched by this ceremonial parade."

The new drums were blessed during the ceremony by Protestant and Roman Catholic command chaplains.

Seven-Week Course At Sea for Cadets

The seven frigates of the Fourth Canadian Escort Squadron will leave Esquimalt Monday for a seven-week sea training program for 210 naval officer cadets.

The cadets are from the three Canadian Services Colleges and are in training for permanent commissions in the RCN.

The ships, commanded by Capt. E. T. G. Madgwick, will launch the first phase of the program with exercises in local waters.

On July 4 the squadron will leave for Nanosue and on July 7 they will be in Vancouver, back to Esquimalt July 14 and then to San Francisco for three days.

The ships return to Esquimalt Aug. 3.

Malahat Move Too Expensive

Possibility of using the RCA's Begg building as the new site for the Maritime Museum will be studied by museum directors.

Possibility was raised by Mayor Percy Scurrah, back yesterday after talks in Ottawa with Defence Minister Harkness.

SLIM CHANCES

Mayor Scurrah said chances of transforming the HMCS Malahat building on Wharf Street into a new site for the museum are slim.

Main obstacle is the $90,000 cost of renovating the Begg building for use as a naval reserve headquarters.

The mayor suggested as an alternative moving the museum into the Begg building.

NOT BEFORE

Commodore H. V. W. Grose, chairman of the museum board, said last night the Yates Street building had not been previously considered. He indicated directors were interested in the proposal.

The mayor said it would be unlikely the navy would move from Malahat since there were no funds available for the needed renovations.

Parking Proposal

'Overjoyed' If It Works

Back from two weeks in Eastern Canada, Mayor Percy Scurrah said yesterday he will be overjoyed if private capital will relieve the city of having to provide off-street parking facilities.

He said he has never seen the city's entry into the parking business as anything but a "desperation measure" to revitalize the downtown area.

EVE OF RETURN

The mayor was commenting on a $1,000,000 private capital parking proposal unfolded on the eve of his return by Ald. Millard Mooney.

Fine Fight Coming to Head Between Bennett, Manning

Peter Bruton's Capital Notebook

IN GOD WE TRUST: There are all the makings of a fine battle shaping up on the national Social Credit scene.

Main adversaries are B.C.'s Premier Bennett and Alberta's Premier Manning and there's a lot of behind-the-scenes sparring going on at present. The fight will come to a head with the national Social Credit leadership contest set for an Ottawa convention in July.

Premier Bennett apparently favors Quebec Social Credit leader René Charbonneau, who has been called "the Billy Graham of the Social Credit movement."

Premier Manning openly favors Dr. Robert Thompson, the present national president, from Red Deer, Alta.

For months now Premier Bennett has been predicting a Social Credit sweep in Quebec next federal election.

Recent polls have indicated that Social Credit strength in Quebec is rising steadily and is now reported at around 13 per cent in that province compared with two per cent for the CCF and one per cent for the New Party.

CONSUMER REPORT: Our Agent X-5 bought two bottles of a well-known seltzer the other day—one "regular" and one "family size."

Each bottle has a metal top marked "measuring cap" and each has the legend on top: "Fill cap, pour into half glass cool water."

And each label contains the information that: "Each measuring cap contains 1/4 grain Ascorbic Acid, 1 1/2 grains Phenacetin B.P. and 5 grains Sodium Bromide."

The labels also instruct the user to "pour handy measuring capful of ... granules into half a glass of cool water."

But the cap on the small bottle holds about one-fifth less than the cap on the large bottle.

Agent X-5 reports: "The little money saved in buying the large bottle would more than likely be counteracted by using more of the seltzer each time."

"Which one is the correct dose?"

I don't know, but you sure can see where he gets his headaches from!

INNER STRUGGLE—Vancouver IWA Local 217 president Syd Thompson told us the other night that the Victoria IWA local should never have quit the Victoria Labor Council for what it considered fence-sitting on the question of political education and political action.

Mr. Thompson, who favors it, more militant union action, told us it would have been better for the union to remain in the VLC and work toward its objectives from within.

PASSING PARADE: Surely it's time there were some rigidly-enforced restrictions governing the removal of campaign posters after elections.

Some posters tacked to trees on the Island Highway during the recent Esquimalt-Saanich federal byelection are still there, marring the countryside.

It will be interesting to see whether these will remain as long as some we saw on the Alberni Highway this week.

They still urge voters to support a certain candidate in last September's provincial election.

Your Problems

By Anna Landers

Dear Anna Landers: I'm engaged to a girl who has some habits I'd like to change. First, let me tell you that she's not a flighty kid—she's 27 years old.

Wherever we go she starts up a conversation with strangers. If we're on a bus she'll say to the man next to her, "That's a very becoming tie. Did your wife pick it out?" Often the men don't smile; she's with me and they begin to get real chummy.

A few weeks ago she got to visiting with a couple of congenial drunks who sat next to us at a ball game. She invited them to join us for a sandwich after the game. I told her this was entirely too friendly. She says she loves people. On Tuesdays and Friday night when I work she goes to the roller rink alone. What is your opinion of all this?—FOGGED UP.

Dear FOGGED: This is more than friendly—it's aggressive and it's in poor taste. The roller-rink bit also suggests that she's looking for more company than an engaged girl ought to need.

Marriage is not a reform school, so don't kid yourself into thinking she'll behave differently when she's your wife. You'd better take a good, hard look at her now, because she's going to be this way for a long time.

Dear Anna Landers: Our son is only 19. A girl in this town who has been running after him for two years got herself into a family way. Yesterday her father phoned my husband and they would better have a family meeting and make plans for a wedding.

We talked to our son and he says he is not ready for marriage, and even if he were, he wouldn't consider a girl of her calibre. We were very relieved that he has enough sense not to be trapped by this scheming tramp.

He swears he never promised her marriage and therefore we feel he owes her nothing. The girl's father says the law has other ideas. If she can collect anything I'll cut this newspaper. Right?—XOXO.

Dear XOXO: Start nibblin'.

Madame. There is no law that can force a marriage, but your son may be in for some financial responsibilities. A lawyer can spell it out. The general tone of your letter is so cold and inhuman that I'm not surprised you raised a boy who is irresponsible and destructive.

Dear Anna Landers: My bachelor brother married a nice widow who has grandchildren. We went to call on them for the first time last week and I was shocked to see 11 pictures of her sons, daughters and their children, lined up in cardboard folders on her piano. Also, while I'm at it, I might as well tell you that she had a Spanish shawl on the piano.

Isn't this terribly old date? Do you think I should tell her? Please advise me soon.—WONDERING.

Dear Wondering: It's her piano, her Spanish shawl and her family. Say nothing.

Confidential to DREAM: FAILURE: Stop bawling and stick to the simple recipes. I've been married 22 years and last night I burned the potatoes. Feel better?

Confidential to NOT TALKING ANY MORE: Maybe he's a "Barbaric ape" but I'll bet it would be a good idea if you dropped 30 pounds, let your hair go back to natural and wore tailored blouse instead of "skin-tight" sweaters to work.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

QUITA NICHOL
The monthly meeting of the Quita Nichol Service League to Goodwill Enterprises will be held in the Goodwill Building, Tuesday, June 20 at 2.30 p.m. Final arrangements will be made for the Old English Tea to be held in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Terry, 3145 Humber Road, Wednesday, July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Mason, 328 Beckley Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Marie, to Mr. Laurence Gary Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fletcher, 628 Moss Street. The wedding will take place Saturday, July 8, at 7.30 p.m. in Grace Lutheran Church with Pastor W. Williams officiating. Miss Mason has asked Miss Doris Schoener and Miss Eileen Sundkvist to be her attendants. Mr. Michael Currier will be best man and Mr. Peter Mason and Mr. Keith Galbraith, ushers.

Pictured just prior to the Commencement Exercises held on the grounds of Norfolk House yesterday afternoon are the 15 graduates, left to right: Ann MacDougall, Gillian Gerry, Sally Price, Gill

Norfolk House Commencement Exercises

Yesterday afternoon the playing fields at Norfolk House School became the setting for ceremonies that were the most exciting in the lives of many of the young girls present. Fifteen young ladies graduated at the 1961 Commencement Exercises, carried out beneath cloudless skies and a bright sun.

Mr. Hugh Henderson, head of the board of directors of the school, addressed parents and friends, and introduced Miss Winifred Scott who gave the school's annual report. Guest speaker was Mr. Richard J. Bower whose topic was, "On Being a Canadian," during which he gave the students a definition of a Canadian as "... a distinctive individual, the result of a mixing of many national backgrounds with three strains predominant—British, French and American."

Centennial WMS Meet

The June meeting of Centennial United Church Women's Missionary Society was devoted to the work of Christian Citizenship, with convener Mrs. Edgar Jamieson presiding. She was assisted in the worship service by Mrs. E. Goddard.

Guest speaker was Mrs. E. K. Vernon of Lake Hill, who outlined the aims of the Voice of Women organization. Mr. and Mrs. E. Jamieson reviewed the highlights of the reception of their son, Mr. Keith Jamieson, in Angola.

Mrs. J. Hopkins, registrar for the leadership training school to be held in September at Shawinigan Lake asked all women of the church to attend and place reservations with her as soon as possible. There will be Bible study by Dr. S. Parsons and special addresses by Rev. Fred Anderson.

The really distinguishing mark is an attitude of mind. Mr. Bower elaborated on this theme and took it further, explaining that to him a Canadian was the composite of three basic things: intelligence, confidence and love. He spoke of the pride of being a Canadian, and exhorted the students, especially the graduating class, to always remember their heritage and their country with pride.

During the afternoon special prizes and cups were awarded the students. Gillian Gerry received awards for general proficiency, English and German. Miss Gerry also received the Hammond Cup for Merit.

The Genevieve Prior Cup for all-round co-operation in the residence was won by Sharon Carter; the Burridge Cup for Merit by Jane Cruickshank; the Young Cup for academic work and athletics by Joanna van der Goes. A special French prize went to Daphne Gage.

Others receiving special awards were: Carla Wilson, progress in kindergarten;

Linda Bapty, special prize in Grade IV; Hilary Spicer and Lee Mitchell for Latin; Janet Hudson for a scrapbook on French Canada; Nanna Fibiger and Freydisa Mason-Hurley for history; and Margaret Bowles for Scripture.

Installation

Mrs. C. Falservice was installed as president of Victoria Lodge No. 63, Daughters of St. George at recent ceremony. Mrs. T. Holmes is junior past president.

Others installed were Mrs. E. MacMillan, vice-president; Mrs. E. Reed, financial secretary; Mrs. P. Harris, recording secretary; Mrs. D. Clifford, treasurer; Mrs. J. Cherniuchan, inside guard; Mrs. L. Murphy, outside guard; Mrs. H. Clarke, first conductor; Mrs. D. Sims, second conductor; Mrs. W. Cleaver, chaplain; Mrs. E. Edstrom, pianist; Mrs. R. Williams, captain of floorwork; District Deputy Mrs. E. Cownden was installation officer.

Cup for senior badminton was won by Jean Watt; senior championship tennis, Jennifer Thomson; junior championship tennis, Freydisa Mason-Hurley; Cock House Cup for total points, Wymondham; Davies Cup for inter-house debating, Calster; Charles Helsterman Cup for outstanding progress in the senior school, Lee Mitchell; Old Girls' Awards for public speaking, Hilary Spicer and Bonnie Rutherford.

General proficiency prizes were also awarded Ruth Padmore, Leslie Olsen, Kristina Robinson, Ann Poulton, Caroline Penn, Elizabeth Grant, Wendy Walker, Jane Woodlands, Leila Harding, Mary Helen Johansson, Judy Pilling, Margaret Bowles, Janet Hudson, Andrea Walker and Hilary Spicer. An interesting part of the afternoon's ceremonies was the gymnastic display put on by grade school pupils, and the entertaining display of English dancing on the green. After the ceremonies, students served tea to guests in the newly remodelled gymnasium-auditorium.

Pretty June Wedding In Metropolitan United

In a lovely early summer wedding Friday evening, Sharon Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ernest Stewart of Oliver Street, became the bride of Robert Thomas Freer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Freer of Linden Avenue. Rev. A. Calder conducted the service in Metropolitan United Church.

Pale pink peonies and blue lilies decorated the church and pews were marked with blue satin roses finished with white streamers.

Wearing aainty floor-length gown of Parisian lace posed over satin, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. Bague bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina scalloped neckline sparkling with iridescent sequins. Sleeves were lily point. A full hooped skirt billowed from a dropped waistline. A coronet of lace enhanced with sequins and seed pearls held the bride's veil of silk illusion. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor, Mrs. E. H. Campbell, bridesmaids Miss Karen Ranson and Miss Marnie Freer and junior bridesmaid Miss Linda Stewart wore cool "copen blue" dresses of nylon sheer over taffeta. High empire waistlines were finished at the back with fluttery bows and hem-length streamers. Tiny veils trimmed the flat bow bandeaux in matching fabric worn by the quartet. They carried crescent bouquets of princess roses, baby pink gladioli and feathered carnations.

Miss Debra Stewart was flower girl wearing a fluffly pink nylon sheer frock over taffeta. She had a matching pink bandeau and carried a basket of pink roses with blue streamers. Ring bearer was Master Michael Walker.

Kenneth Southey was best man and ushering were J. David Price, Lloyd Plaxton, Jack Welburn and William Bondy.

During signing of the register, Mrs. M. Dillabough sang "Till Walk Beside You."

Receiving guests at the reception in the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, mother of the bride wore pure silk Deja sheath dress in geranium tone. Her chapeau was of cerise silk flowers. Groom's mother wore a pale gold silk shantung dress with lace bodice and sheath skirt. Pale mauve flowers formed her hat. Corsages in white and mauve gladioli respectively completed their ensembles.

Newlyweds cut a three tier cake which was surrounded by pink tulle and flanked by pink roses set on a lace cloth. C. E. Walker proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving for a honeymoon in southern California, the bride donned an all wool knit suit in rose petal beige tones trimmed with brown. Slim skirt was topped with a hip hugging jacket featuring a Y neckline and rolled collar. Her hat and accessories were ecotone.

On return, Mr. and Mrs. Freer will make their home at 1339 Pandora Avenue.

"Century 21"

Cumuloft Nylon Broadloom is Really

"The Carpet with a Future"

Because:

1. Wears practically forever

Century 21 is made with Chemstrand's "Cumuloft" continuous filament Nylon Broadloom which is the toughest, most durable carpet yarn known. Century 21 is thus an unbelievably strong carpet — produced to wear and wear and wear in your heaviest traffic areas — even on stairs!

2. Lasting beauty of color

Century 21 brings a new world of glorious colors to your home. Beautiful shades, specially developed by Jordans for Western Canadians to give a lasting elegance to any room.

12 ft. width in nine colors:

Cream White
Spice Gold
Meadow Green

Mist Blue
Bimini Aqua
Avocado Green

Butternut
Dark Spice
Burnt Orange

3. Retains luxurious texture

Century 21 is so resilient that no force can keep it down. It will always come back to its original, luxurious texture, will always resist matting and retain its rich, soft appearance.

4. Easiest to clean

Century 21 is impervious to soil because Cumuloft Nylon is a smooth non-absorbent fibre. Dust and dirt are readily lifted with the vacuum and spills are easily wiped away. Of all carpets we have tested, Century 21 is far and away the easiest to care for!

5. Stays "New" looking

Century 21 not only wears practically forever. It stays new looking longer. This is because Cumuloft Nylon is continuous filament yarn and has no short, loose fibre — there is nothing to pill or fuzz.

'Mission to Canada'

Dynamic Tom Rees Returns

Dynamic Tom Rees who will bring his "Mission to Canada" to Victoria for two days beginning today, was once an agnostic.

He was convert to Christianity by his brother, an Anglican rector.

The Lancashire-born Rees threw himself into church work immediately after his conversion. He founded Hildenborough Hall in 1943. At the conference centre there, more than 70,000 men and women have attended courses on evangelism and Christian leadership.

No stranger to Canada, Mr. Rees has conducted large scale inter-church missions in Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria.

He feels that his appeal is aimed primarily at the mind and conscience of his listeners, rather than at the emotions.

While much of his work has been of a pioneer nature, he collaborates closely with local churches and stresses complete loyalty to ministers.

Mr. Rees, who has remained a layman, is accompanied by Rev. Lex Smith of Scotland, an experienced preacher and broadcaster.

Mr. Rees begins his Victoria program at 8 p.m. in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. At 11 a.m. Sunday, he preaches at the Salvation Army Citadel. At 3 p.m. he will conduct a grand rally in Royal Athletic Park with the Salvation Army band in attendance.

Church Finances Major Concern

The Presbyterian Church in Canada closed its 87th General Assembly in Toronto Thursday, one that was tagged with the nickname "the financial assembly."

During the nine days of sessions, finances were a major concern of the commissioners from across Canada. The economic picture was not bright. Almost every committee and board presented requests for increased grants, and in almost every instance they were told the money was not available. At the same time the assembly decided to increase the basic minister's stipend to $3,900 from $3,000 annually.

The assembly approved a total authorized expenditure for 1961 of $1,705,511. The budget objective for 1962 was set at $2,030,000. Revenue above the authorized expenditures will be used to finance the increase in stipend.

The United Church Observer says the government bill to amend the criminal Code on capital punishment is "a gesture to ignorance and behind-the-times public opinion."

"Unfortunately, the official view of the United Church is not shared by many" of the other churches or by all of its own members," The Observer says.

The Church has called for abolishing capital punishment. The new bill would retain the death penalty for premeditated murders.

The 34th annual convention of Regular Baptists of B.C. begins in Victoria Monday. It will last until Thursday.

Dr. E. P. Fosmark, general director of the Conservative Baptist Association of Oregon, will be key speaker at the convention.

Evening sessions, beginning at 7.30, are open to the public.

"Contemporary Christianity for Times Like These," is the topic for a series of 14 talks to be presented at Quadra Bible Chapel by John Williams of Devonshire, England, beginning tomorrow.

Mr. Williams has travelled extensively in many countries. He first visited Victoria in 1957, then returned for a brief period in 1959.

He will speak on Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. He may be heard Tuesdays and Fridays at 8 p.m.

Donald S. Karvelis, 2342 Cranmore Road, is one of four seniors in a class of more than 100 to receive "high honors" for scholastic attainment in graduating from Life Bible College, Los Angeles.

Mr. Karvelis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Karvelis, is a graduate of Oak Bay High School and was student body treasurer and president of his sophomore class while training for the ministry in the Bible college of the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel.

Archdeacon E. H. Maddocks of Toronto, secretary of the General Synod, Anglican Church of Canada, will preach at St. Mark's Church, Bole-skine Road, on Sunday morning.

Lieutenant-Governor G. R. Pearkes and Mrs. Pearkes will attend the 11 a.m. service at St. Matthias' Anglican Church Sunday for the annual service of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Rev. A. I. Higgins will preach on criticisms and judgments, at the 9.30 and 11 a.m. services in First United Church Sunday.

The Royal Jubilee Hospital nurses' choir will be guest at the 11 a.m. service. Soloist at the earlier service will be Ruth Chapman.

Rev. Stanley F. Sears will preach on the Love of God at the 7.30 p.m. service in First United Church Sunday. Soloists will be Frances Scott and Allan Husband.

Guest soloist for the 11 a.m. service June 25 will be Marlene Vance.

Britannia Legion Branch members will attend the 11 a.m. service Sunday at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt.

About 3,500 families will work on Mexico's first collective forest reserve on 1,000,000 acres near Durango.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel
SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln-dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER
Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, lightweight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood.
It is very easily worked,
is free from pitch, takes and holds stains, paints and enamels excellently.
Because of these qualities,
Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY
Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING
CHARACTERISTICS
Left exposed without paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen. It is one of the most stable species of lumber, having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING
QUALITIES
Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly used soft woods—another point in its favor as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

Best Season Likely At Stratford

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—The Stratford Shakespearean Festival opens Monday with an advance ticket sale that indicates the ninth season will be its best financially.

A tragedy, a chronicle and a comedy have been chosen from the repertoire of William Shakespeare for the festival's three main productions this year. The season extends to Sept. 23.

The plays are "Coriolanus," "Henry VIII" and "Love's Labor's Lost."

$6,200 Given To Gallery

Three Canada Council grants totalling $6,200 will be given to the Greater Victoria Art Gallery.

They are $3,900 towards organizing special exhibits next year marking the gallery's 10th anniversary, $1,500 for a series of lectures co-ordinated with the Vancouver Art Gallery and $1,200 for the gallery's extension service of art instruction and assistance to up-land art groups.

Art Curator Starts Tour

Art Gallery curator Colin Graham left Victoria yesterday for a two-month tour of galleries in eastern Canada and the U.S.

A Canada Council grant will cover cost of his studies of collections and operating procedures at the various galleries.

Arthur Corry, a Victoria interior decorator and art critic, will serve as acting curator while Mr. Graham is away.

Names are degenerating into mere labels or tags little better than the old Roman habit of numbering their children Tertius and Quintus—Third and Fifth.

Trying to give a child a name with significance can of course be carried to a ridiculous extreme. In the Long Parliament of the days of Charles I and Oliver Cromwell there was a member called Prins-God Barebones.

Also in the family was Christ-camel-n-to-the-world-to-nave Barebones. He had a brother called If-Christ-had-not-died-for-thee-thou-hadst-been-damned Barebones. This was too much of a mouthful so his companions called him Damned Barebones for short.

On the passenger lists of the pilgrim boats were Lumphead, Styffchynn and Inchbald. Don't you love them? We appear to have lost names which appear in the Domesday Book of the census made by William the Conqueror of Badneighbor, Blackinthemouth, Gotobed and Loasewit.

Two city youths were convicted of theft of two planer rollers from Capital Iron Works.

Dallas Dale Fleming, 1672 Earle, and Robert Turnbull, 3843 Rowland, were returned to June 20 for probation reports and sentence.

Thomas Roecamp, 150 Cross, who admitted obtaining a radio and cash with a worthless cheque from D & D Tire Ltd.

1620 Blanshard, was remanded to June 23.

In Esquimalt court Arthur Simpson, Virago Crescent, pleaded guilty to impaired driving. He was fined $250 and restricted to driving for business only for four months.

Norman Crothers, HMCS Skeena, was fined $50 for drinking in a public place, and William Gray, HMCS Ste. Therese, was fined $50 for theft of a case of beer from ship's stores.

B.C. Hydro Tackles Social Power Issues

A special committee has been set up to study social, economic and technical problems involved in the flooding of large tracts in the Kootenays for the proposed Columbia River hydro project.

Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, chairman of the B.C. Power Commission, said Friday the committee, as one of the first steps in assembling data, will interview organizations and persons in the areas which would be affected by the $458,000,000 hydro-electric and flood control scheme.

FAIR, EQUITABLE

He said the commission will follow government policy that any adjustments required as a result of the project would be fair and equitable.

The committee will prepare any material that would be required for public hearings called by the provincial water controller.

The hearings are not expected until late August or September.

The committee, which will be chaired by H. D. C. Hunter, a Power Commission lawyer, will also meet government departments and forest industry firms which have interests in the area.

"It will establish necessary contact with affected communities, organizations and persons with a view to working out problems on an individual and personal basis," said Dr. Keenleyside.

OTHERS NAMED

Other members are Mrs. P. Ross Kidd, executive assistant to the power commissioners; A. W. McDowell, right-of-way agent; J. W. Miligan, executive assistant to the manager, engineering and operations, and F. W. Earle, committee secretary.

All are with the commission's head office here.

OTTAWA (Special) — Action to help Canada's automobile industry is expected to be taken by the government through provisions in the budget Tuesday.

A possible reduction or even elimination of the 7 1/2 per cent excise tax on automobiles may be forthcoming.

Measures in the budget to assist the automotive and parts industries would be based on recommendations contained in the Bladen royal commission report.

SOME TIME

The government has had the report for some time. It is expected to be tabled in the Commons either just ahead of the budget or in conjunction with it.

Because the government has held back the report, it is presumed here at least some of its recommendations will be in the budget. One of the most important considerations before the commission was the excise tax, which brings in about $60,000,000 a year.

WIDE RANGE

The report could have a sweeping impact on a wide range of secondary industries now facing stiff competition from imports.

The budget may also do something about the application of tariffs to imported automobiles.

Car parts manufacturers during the Bladen hearings proposed the rate on British cars be upped to 17 1/2 per cent and a high rate of 25 per cent be imposed on other imported vehicles.

South Africa
Halts Outflow

CAPE TOWN (AP) — In new moves to halt the outflow of capital, the South African government Friday prohibited South African citizens from exporting funds for the purchase of securities on such foreign markets as the London and Bulawayo (Rhodesia) stock exchanges.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Overton Brooks of the U.S. House Space Committee called on the National Science Foundation Friday to revoke a $3,500 fellowship granted a student convicted of contempt for refusing to say whether he was a Communist.

Rep. Charles Mosher, Ohio Republican, said he was opposed to limiting the freedoms of scientists.

"I don't think scientists should become fearful about signing petitions and holding political opinions," he said. "They should not be made to feel gagged or bound to conform."

Meanwhile, a House subcommittee on Un-American Activities is checking names of possibly thousands of graduate students given government scholarships.

"When you find one rotten apple in the barrel," a subcommittee source said, "you reach in and look around for more."

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Robert Lee Evans' curly locks didn't impress Judge Christ T. Seraphim when Evans came before him yesterday charged with beating his wife and refusing to support his family.

Evans, 24, had been receiving $137.75 a month in county aid for himself and his family.

"Is it true you get your hair set in a beauty shop as reported?" the judge asked.

"Yes," Evans replied.

"How often and how much does it cost?" Seraphim asked.

"About once a month, for a dollar," Evans said.

"Once a week, your honor," his wife prompted.

Evans was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Sprinting Neighbor
Catches Falling Baby

TRAIL (CP) — A mother sprinted 100 yards to catch a neighbor's 17-month-old baby as it fell out of a second-storey window.

"Thank God I was there," said Mrs. Gavin Neil of nearby Shavers Bench in explaining how she caught Carlos Defreals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Defreals, as he fell 20 feet.

She said her son ran in yelling that the baby had started climbing out of the window and she raced over and reached her neighbors just in time to catch the baby.

Mrs. Defreals was outside when the baby climbed the stairs and out the unscreened window.

Carrier, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society, said his group has been aware of Russian experimentation in this field for years.

Gagarin may have re-entered the earth's atmosphere with a capsule which, in effect, was a stub-winged modification of the device, according to Carter.

The story of the "space skipper"—which may be one of the most important military weapons of the future—began with Dr. Eugen Sanger of Germany who suggested its possibilities in the Second World War.

Sanger now is head of an institute in Stuttgart which is devoted to research on advance methods of rocket propulsion in such as the "plasma jet" which will enable rocket ships to hurtle about the universe in controlled flight at many thousands of miles an hour—if it can be perfected.

The late Josef Stalin was intrigued by the space skipper idea when he first heard of it from captured German scientists. He ordered priority work on the bomber.

But development hinged on some method for boosting the skipper into space. The power now is available in the immense Soviet booster rockets. One of these would release the space skipper above the atmosphere and it then would turn on its engines and by "skipping" circle the earth in about

QUEBEC SENATOR
SCANDAL TARGETNikita Killed
All Hopes
At Geneva

GENEVA (UPI) — The British said yesterday Nikita Khrushchev must bear the "frightening responsibility" for killing hopes for a nuclear test ban treaty at the three-nation Geneva conference.

Britain's David Ormsby-Gore made the indictment at the 320th meeting of the conference which began in October of 1958. The session lasted only 20 minutes.

Ormsby-Gore flew in from London yesterday to resume temporarily the post of chief British delegate in what British sources had said was a last-ditch effort to break the impasse. He endorsed firmly the rejection by the United States of the "ultimatum" Khrushchev gave in a memorandum to President Kennedy and which was read into the record here.

THREE VETOS

Khrushchev's memorandum had said the negotiations on a nuclear test ban must be concluded in the Soviet terms or merged in a general disarmament conference. The Soviet proposal would set up a three-member control authority with each holding veto power over the other two.

"If the memorandum really is the last word," Ormsby-Gore said, "then the truth would be that the Soviet government has brought an effective end to these negotiations."

MORE PESSIMISTIC

He said Khrushchev's "report to the people" radio and television address Thursday had made him "more pessimistic than before." And he added that he felt prospects for a successful outcome of the conference are "extremely dim."

But Ormsby-Gore said Britain supported the United States in its determination not to break off the talks but to continue to sit patiently at the negotiating table in hopes that the Soviets might have a change of heart.

Western Rights
'Solid' in Berlin

CHICAGO (UPI) — British Foreign Secretary Lord Home said yesterday that western rights in Free Berlin cannot be taken away no matter what Nikita Khrushchev says or does.

The British foreign policy spokesman said, in reference to the Soviet dictator's demand for a Berlin treaty within six months, that "it is for Khrushchev to say whether he is going to make trouble in Berlin."

But Home said Britain and the United States will insist on the right of the people of West Berlin to "live the way they want to," on the right of the Western Allies to be there and on the right of access to the city.

POTENT WEAPONS

In a luncheon address earlier, he cited Britain's colonialism and its attitude toward neutral nations as potent weapons in the cold war.

Home said that since the Second World War, "British colonialism has established 10 fully independent nations in Asia and Africa."

PRY EMPIRE OPEN

"None of these countries," he said, "has sold itself out to the Communists."

Home said British colonialism is "an example in freedom which may be used to pry the Communist empire wide open."

In contrast, he said, wherever Communists impose their power, neutrality is killed. He said Soviet "peaceful coexistence" is a label to cover up "every form of political, economic and ideological warfare."

Drug Price
Action Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The U.S. justice department was expected today to initiate price-fixing action against druggists across the country on the basis of winning a test case against the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association.

Also found guilty was co-defendant Donald K. Hedgpeth, past president of the association and author of a controversial price-fixing formula.

They referred to the dispute between Finance Minister Fleming and Mr. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada.

OTTAWA (CP) — H. W. Herdridge, deputy CCF leader in the Commons, said Friday the government is trying to make James Coyne "the scapegoat for four years of Conservative misrule."

"I had never thought until now that a government of Canada would resort to the smear technique," Mr. Herdridge said. "Character assassination is something we have not had in Canada before. This has been a shameful week for Canada."

Frank Howard, CCF member for Skeena, said the government has "woken up to the fact that it had got the country into an unholy mess and had better pretend to do something about it before going to the people." Mr. Coyne was "the fall guy."

They referred to the dispute between Finance Minister Fleming and Mr. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada.

SEN.
HENRI COURTEMACHE

MONTREAL (CP) — Remund Belhumeur, former general manager of Jean Talon Hospital, testified Friday that Senator Henri Courtemanche at one time asked for and received 10 per cent of all federal and provincial government grants paid to the hospital.

Testifying before a three-man board of inquiry into the hospital's administration, Mr. Belhumeur said Sen. Courtemanche, former secretary of state in the Progressive Conservative government, received a total of $37,000.

He introduced as an exhibit a document listing cheques which he said were made to Senator Courtemanche or to cash which was paid to the senator.

CHEQUES MISSING

Of the total, he said, $5,000 was taken from the hospital's surgical fund in the period 1957-60 and $31,000 from the hospital building fund in the period 1956-57.

Another witness said the cancelled cheques are missing.

TAXES MOUNTING

Mr. Belhumeur, administrator of the hospital from its start in 1953 until 1956, said Jean Talon was started as a private hospital by Vancouver-born Dr. George Horl, who decided to convert it into a public hospital when "we found the taxes were mounting."

He said someone—he could not remember who—had suggested he see Sen. Courtemanche, the hospital's lawyer at the time of its incorporation and at one time a member of its board of directors.

'BIT EXPENSIVE'

Mr. Belhumeur testified: "The first time I saw him, Mr. Courtemanche said he would expect 10 per cent of the grants. It seemed a bit expensive but we received the grants and he was paid 10 per cent."

He said Mr. Courtemanche received two $10,000 cheques and two $4,500 cheques for grants given to the hospital during the period it was owned by Dr. Horl.

LOOKED AT CHEQUES

Georges Marie Larose, accountant for the hospital, said the cancelled cheques or vouchers for them have been missing since the visit, some time ago, of an inspector from the federal income tax department.

He said the inspector, not identified, had looked at a number of cheques and particularly noted the ones issued to Mr. Courtemanche.

COULDN'T BE FOUND

Six weeks later, he said, a man came to him with a letter from Sen. Courtemanche asking that the cheques issued to the senator be shown to him. Mr. Larose said the cancelled cheques or vouchers for them could not be found in hospital records.

Flood Feared
In Legislature

TORONTO (CP) — Fear of flooding in the provincial legislature buildings grew Friday when a mixture of silt, water and air exploded through a concrete floor in the sub-basement. Officials blamed a work stoppage on the subway because of inattention to tunnel faces.

Some British experts believe "mock-ups" of the skipper may have been fired in the Soviet test rockets.

Did Yuri Ride an Orbiting Bomber?

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — A British expert said yesterday Maj. Yuri Gagarin's space capsule may have been a modified version of the so-called "space skipper" bomber which the Russians have been working on for more than 12 years.

Some high American scientific sources believe the "space skipper"—which is intended to skip along the top of the atmosphere the way a stone ricochets across water—may soon become one of the secret weapons in the Soviet arsenal.

Dr. Herbert York, director of defence research, told the House appropriations committee in Washington that they anticipated the Russians were trying to produce such a plane—the equivalent of the American "Dyna-soar" project.

But European space experts have known for a long time of the Soviet preoccupation with the space skipper. Leonard Carrier, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society, said his group has been aware of Russian experimentation in this field for years.

Gagarin may have re-entered the earth's atmosphere with a capsule which, in effect, was a stub-winged modification of the device, according to Carter.

The story of the "space skipper"—which may be one of the most important military weapons of the future—began with Dr. Eugen Sanger of Germany who suggested its possibilities in the Second World War.

Sanger now is head of an institute in Stuttgart which is devoted to research on advance methods of rocket propulsion in such as the "plasma jet" which will enable rocket ships to hurtle about the universe in controlled flight at many thousands of miles an hour—if it can be perfected.

The late Josef Stalin was intrigued by the space skipper idea when he first heard of it from captured German scientists. He ordered priority work on the bomber.

But development hinged on some method for boosting the skipper into space. The power now is available in the immense Soviet booster rockets. One of these would release the space skipper above the atmosphere and it then would turn on its engines and by "skipping" circle the earth in about

Despite Big Program

Interest Low For July 1

COURTENAY—Leaders of an attempt to revive July 1 celebrations here were disappointed with the turnout of a Wednesday community meeting but confident they have a top-notch program lined up.

Wednesday's meeting called by a Kinsmen sponsoring committee was to include representatives of all participating organizations. Only six showed up.

Don Ohs, July 1 chairman, said many organizations have been working on all phases of the program and one of the best parades and celebrations in many years is assured.

A new departure from the traditions of former celebrations will route the parade from 17th and Fitzgerald up Cliffe Avenue to Lewis Park instead of along the main street.

The annual baseball tournament also will be replaced with loggers sports, field events for all ages, special ladies' competitions and an appearance of the B.C. Lions football club.

Holiday events will be preceded by a giant outdoor bingo in Lewis Park June 28, and a talent show and dance June 30.

Other events affiliated with the committee's program are the annual Island tennis tournament with top-seeded players competing July 1 and 2, a gymkhana July 2 in Centennial Park and a fishing derby.

A feature attraction imported for the parade will be Langley's award-winning majorette corps.

Swimming and diving events in Memorial Pool will offer aquatic variety and pipe and brass band concerts added to square dancing and trampoline displays will keep variations in the program clicking every half hour.

About 30 per cent of the $4,000 operating budget will have to be met by donations and grants.

Kinsmen who have said they will spearhead the July 1 organization for 1961 only, hope some surplus will result to hand over to a succeeding community committee.

Miss Gloria Mortimore

Official of CNIB Attends Election

CAMPBELL RIVER—Miss Gloria Mortimore, Canadian National Institute for the Blind field representative from Victoria, attended the election of officers here when the following slate was elected:

President, W. D. Hill for a second term; vice-president, Sherman Evans; secretary, Mrs. B. Cave; treasurer, Leslie Bevington; directors, Mrs. G. Baldwin, A. D. Corker (village commissioner), Mrs. Sherman Evans, Archdeacon Patrick Ellis of the Columbia Coast Mission, and a representative from the Lions Club to be named by that body.

Miss Mortimore, accompanied by Mrs. Hill, visited the four cases who are under the wing of the CNIB.

Two little girls who each lost an eye through cancer and now go to school are looked after in case they need adjustments to their artificial eyes provided by the institute. Later Mr. and Mrs. Hill were hosts to Miss Mortimore and the newly elected officers at a smorgasbord supper.

Freight Rig Wrecked Dodging Motorcycle

PORT ALBERNI—An Island Freight Transport trailer and the diesel unit hauling it were wrecked on Port Alberni Highway at Rogers Creek fill Thursday night. The driver escaped injury.

The trailer collided with the metal railing of the fill as driver Kenneth Walz, 1115 Redford, Port Alberni, averted to avoid striking an approaching motorcycle which had swung wide on a curve.

The impact with the railing uncoupled truck and trailer and the units went into the ditches on both sides of the road. A load of paper rolls in the trailer smashed through the front end.

RCMP said that driver of the motorcycle was not identified.

Drowning Victim Rites Today

CAMPBELL RIVER—William Runaracs, drowning victim Wednesday at Echo Lake, will be buried in Campbell River today.

Funeral service will be held at St. Peter's Anglican Church at 2 p.m. with Canon T. D. Proctor officiating.

Burialbearers will be DeMolay fathers. The victim was a member of DeMolay Elkhorn chapter of Campbell River.

Butterfly Target in Aerial War

Science Attacks Pine Menace in Cathedral Grove

PORT ALBERNI—It was science versus the pine butterfly when aerial warfare started in Cathedral Grove of Macmillan Park on Alberni Highway Friday morning.

Federal government entomologists, Macmillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., foresters and Okanagan Helicopter Sprays Ltd. are allies in the attempt to exterminate the pest which in the past few years has filled the grove with tiny white-winged insects.

Ammunition being spread by the 'copter at an elevation of only some 75 feet above the tall trees is DDT mixed with diesel oil.

Expense of the project is being shared by the provincial conservation department and MB & PR. As the attack is made on the larvae of the butterfly in an area of 1,160 acres. Approximately 337 acres of the tract being covered is within the provincial park.

While foresters recognize the danger to fish from the use of DDT it was felt that in this instance the trees were of more importance.

However, Dave Radcliffe, Macmillan forester, pointed out that protection of the game fish in Cameron River is being considered.

Harry Lox was in charge of a provincial game branch experiment in which wooden baffles are being used in an attempt to skim the oily residue from the water of the river. Cages of rainbow trout are in position above and below the baffles to see how successful the attempt is proving.

Tom Silver, head of the federal forest insect survey at Victoria explained that Douglas fir in the area has come under the attack of the butterfly which in several areas of the United States has taken a toll of ponderosa pine.

A count started in the fall of 1959 showed seven eggs per square foot in upper branches of the firs in Macmillan Park.

Last fall the population had more than doubled.

Mr. Silver explained that the feeding of the butterfly grub on the fir needles weakens old growth and decadent trees, making them susceptible to the bark beetle.

The spraying is being done with half a pound of DDT in each gallon of diesel oil. The mixture is sprayed at the rate of one gallon per acre.

The project got underway shortly after 5 p.m. but a rising wind put a stop to the work within three hours.

A spokesman for the helicopter spray service said that it is hoped that wind will diminish this evening making it possible to complete the job. It is estimated that nine hours of spraying will be required to complete the job.

Jet Crew Windblown

COMOX—A canopy blew off a United States RB-47 aircraft during a filming flight here today but the only consequence was a breezy ride back to the RCAF base for the crew.

The plane was one of four here for a two-day stint of making films for NORAD training. A USAF ground crew of 20 accompanied the planes.

Main subject of the films was electronic counter-measures or in simpler terms, how to jam radar tracking from the air.

Students Win Awards

PORT ALBERNI—Two important mathematics awards were among those presented at awards day ceremonies in Alberni District High School.

Colin Perry received the senior mathematics trophy established some years ago by staff member Roy Gould for the student showing the greatest interest in mathematics. A Mathematical Association of America pin was awarded to Ralph Fossum who received the highest standing of ADHS pupils in recent examinations.

Others receiving awards were:

Scholarship letters: Bonny McCarthy, Grade 12, Eric DeBruyn, runner-up; David Jamieson, Grade 11, W. Dewaal, runner-up; Elizabeth Pounder, Grade 10, B. ## They Said It Couldn't Be Done

It's the Berries Under Saanich Sun

Aching Novice Stoops to Pick Up Living Wage

By TED PULFORD
Deep inside the Saanich Peninsula, on a farm owned by George Doney, a pint-sized man with a crippled hip picked enough strawberries yesterday to put the choice fruit on half the restaurant menus in Victoria.

By 5 p.m., he was on his way home with $15 cash for nine hours' work.

If one man can walk away from a berry patch with a bundle like that, what about the complaints circulating among workers in Victoria that one can't make eating money picking strawberries?

I spent the better part of a day yesterday, crawling around on my hands and knees in a strawberry patch looking for the answer to this one.

Here were some of the things I learned.

Even a fumble-fingered, six-foot-four-inch elephant like myself can make a living picking strawberries—but he won't put any money aside for his old age.

Rank novice though I was at the business, I found that my pride suffered considerably more than my back during my time in the fields, because 14-year-old children—nasty grins and all—were picking three berries to my one and not complaining a bit.

Clumsy as I was, I still managed to pick enough berries to bring me a little less than $1 an hour.

After listening to stories that the work was impossibly hard and that a picker could only earn $3 for a day's work, I was surprised to find that the 10 or 12 pickers working in Mr. Doney's patch were averaging $6 a day and having plenty of fun doing it.

While he weighed in the berries I hadn't eaten and I massaged the shrieking joints in my back, Mr. Doney admitted that other pickers on the peninsula may not have things quite as comfortable as I have suggested.

His three acres of berry patch is obviously a labor of love for Mr. Doney who bluntly announces to anyone who will listen that he has "the best doggone strawberries in Canada."

On other less productive farms, a slight increase in the basic rate of four cents a pound for pickers might encourage them more. An extra cent a pound would mean much at the end of the day.

On one of the several farms I visited after my picking stint, I found one family—complete with three teen-aged children—making a picnic out of a day in the berry patch.

Besides the fresh air, sunshine, exercise—and free strawberries—they were able to return home from their outing almost $30 richer.

Before you head for a day among the strawberries, however, here are a couple of hints.

Watch out for the sun. Every strawberry man on the island will tell you hair-raising tales of city folk who wore too little and had the skin burned off their backs.

Take along a light—but ample—lunch with some salt on the food. It's a long day without it.

Anyone interested in spending a day picking strawberries need only call the National Employment Service and ask for the Farm Labor Division. You'll get a royal reception.

Don't Set Fire To the Forests

Picnickers and campers have been urged by forestry officials to be extremely careful of fires this weekend.

No forest closure is in sight, but the fire hazard is "high" at picnic grounds and campsites throughout Vancouver Island, said a spokesman.

The hazard is "moderate" and increasing in heavily timbered areas. Lack of rain is expected to increase the hazard in all areas.

Appeals Seek Feast in 1962

Tent Thief Steals Away

The children of Mr. and Mrs. George Kintoff, 1746 Fort, may have to cancel their holiday plans this summer, unless an unkind thief has a change of heart.

The new 9 by 12 ridgepole tent had been put up in the side yard for the children to play in prior to their holidays. As soon as school was out they planned a camping vacation.

"The children are heartbroken at the thought they may lose out on their holiday," Mrs. Kintoff said.

A serious overdose of charitable appeals for capital purposes is shaping up for the Victoria public in 1962, according to J. Stuart Keate, director of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Keate told directors at their monthly meeting yesterday that plans were being made to raise more than $2,500,000 in Victoria next year. The YMCA, the YWCA, the university, St. Joseph's Hospital and Christ Church Cathedral were among those he named as potential fund-seekers.

Mr. Keate said that if all the appeals were made in one year, they might all fail in their objectives, and he labelled this a serious matter for the community.

Seven-Week Course At Sea for Cadets

The seven frigates of the Fourth Canadian Escort Squadron will leave Esquimalt Monday for a seven-week sea training program for 210 naval officer cadets.

The cadets are from the three Canadian Services Colleges and are in training for permanent commissions in the RCN.

The ships, commanded by Capt. E. T. G. Madgwick, will launch the first phase of the program with exercises in local waters.

On July 4 the squadron will leave for Nanosue and on July 7 they will be in Vancouver, back to Esquimalt July 11 and then to San Francisco for three days.

The ships return to Esquimalt Aug. 3.

Malahat Move Too Expensive

Possibility of using the RCAF's Begg building as the new site for the Maritime Museum will be studied by museum directors.

Possibility was raised by Mayor Percy Scurrell, back yesterday after talks in Ottawa with Defence Minister Harkness.

SLIM CHANCES

Mayor Scurrell said chances of transforming the HMCS Malahat building on Wharf Street into a new site for the museum are slim.

Main obstacle is the $50,000 cost of renovating the Begg building for use as a naval reserve headquarters.

The mayor suggested as an alternative moving the museum into the Begg building.

NOT BEFORE

Commodore H. V. W. Green, chairman of the museum board, said last night the Yates Street building had not been previously considered. He indicated directors were interested in the proposal.

The mayor said it would be unlikely the navy would move from Malahat since there were no funds available for the needed renovations.

'Overjoyed' If It Works

Back from two weeks in Eastern Canada, Mayor Percy Scurrell said yesterday he will be overjoyed if private capital will relieve the city of having to provide off-street parking facilities.

He said he has never seen the city's entry into the parking business as anything but a "desperation measure" to revitalize the downtown area.

Court Action Threatened Over Open Comox Ditch

COMOX—A Comox ratepayer has threatened to sue the village over drainage problems on his property.

Samuel D. McLeod of Comox Avenue says odors from a ditch running through his property from Beaufort Road have caused him loss of tenants.

McLeod's lawyer, Ronald MacIsaac of Nanaimo, said Thursday the village was warned May 23 a suit would be launched in 30 days if the drainage was not remedied. He said the action will go ahead next week as planned.

MacIsaac said the municipal affairs department also has been asked on McLeod's behalf to investigate the situation. The health unit had refused to look into the alleged polluted water crossing his client's land, he said.

Mr. McLeod claims water draining through the ditch from uplying properties is contaminated by effluent from septic tank disposal fields.

Village Chairman Ronald Ellis said the drainage is a natural water course and the village has no responsibility.

"We did Mr. McLeod a favor last year by ditching the water course on part of his property at his request and he thanked us profusely at the time," Mr. Ellis said.

Jack Smith, village superintendent, said the watercourse has existed for many years and a culvert under Beaufort Road at the head of Mr. McLeod's ditch did not change the effect of the natural water-aid.

PARKVILLE—Parkville will again have a beauty contest this year and plans are underway to hold a day's program of events in conjunction with the contest. A fashion show, car parade and other items have been suggested and the tentative date for the celebration is July 15.

DUNCAN—A 50-mile endurance race will be one of the feature attractions at the Duncan Motorcycle Club meeting Sunday.

The club has invited races from Victoria, Nanaimo, Lake Cowichan and other areas to compete for trophies.

Another event will be an endurance race for both scrambling and road machines. The main race is over 30 laps, covering 50 miles of rough territory.

The races begin at noon just off the Maple Bay Road before the Genoa Bay Road cut-off.

PORT ALBERNI—Nine schools will participate in the fourth annual elementary track meet to be held Saturday on the Centennial Oval at the high school.

Principals of the various district schools have said that they have stronger track teams than those which competed last year and keen competition is expected.

Approximately 450 students will take part.

Two contracts have already been awarded in the school building program and construction is well underway on the first school located on Fayette Road in Beaver Creek area.

LADYSMITH—Sixty-nine young boys, junior members of the Ladysmith Sportsmen's Club, were taken for a fishing trip on Sunday by men of the senior club and enjoyed a fine time.

Leaving at 8 a.m. in three buses supplied by Crown Zellerbach, they were taken to Nanaimo Lakes, and the weather was perfect.

They were given chocolate bars upon arrival and a safety talk by members of the Sportsmen's Club who divided the youngsters into groups of five and chaperoned them while fishing.

Winner was David Birrell, 9, with a two-pound, one ounce trout. He received the Sea-view Court trophy for one year, a replica to keep, also an airmattress with pump as his prize.

PORT ALBERNI—Buried for 30 years in the cornerstone of Port Alberni's post office, relics of the city's early days will be turned over to city council.

Cambridge Holdings, a group of local men, bought the property from the federal government nearly two years ago and recently sold it, reserving the cornerstone from the sale. As the government, which had placed a claim on the cornerstone during the demolition, had not followed up the claim, the holdings firm had decided to donate it to the city, unopened.

PORT ALBERNI—The board of school district 70 has called tenders for construction of a six-room elementary school in southeast Port Alberni.

Two contracts have already been awarded in the school building program and construction is well underway on the first school located on Fayette Road in Beaver Creek area.

Pedlars' Bond Pondered By Chamber

Reeve George Murdoch of Oak Bay yesterday asked the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to support his council in its request to the government that all door-to-door pedlars should be bonded.

Mr. Murdoch said the Oak Bay board of trade had opposed Oak Bay council's stand on the grounds such bonding would prove costly to the legitimate trader and would not protect the public against the many operators who did their selling by phone or through the mail.

Victoria chamber directors agreed to pass the request on to the retail merchants group for consideration.

IN GOD WE TRUST: There are all the makings of a fine battle shaping up on the national Social Credit scene.

Main adversaries are B.C.'s Premier Bennett and Alberta's Premier Manning and there's a lot of behind-the-scenes sparring going on at present. The fight will come to a head with the national Social Credit leadership contest set for an Ottawa convention in July.

Premier Bennett apparently favors Quebec Social Credit president René Gauthier, who has been called "the Billy Graham of the Social Credit movement."

Premier Manning openly favors Dr. Robert Thompson, the present national president, from Red Deer, Alta.

For months now Premier Bennett has been predicting a Social Credit sweep in Quebec next federal election.

Recent polls have indicated that Social Credit strength in Quebec is rising steadily and is now reported at around 13 per cent in that province com-

Still Think I'm Right Kent Tells Chamber

Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday was given the background of the fight between its president, Aubrey Kent, and some members of city council over delays in downtown parking planning.

Mr. Kent explained he had stuck out his neck in criticizing the council for its negative attitude and thought he was justified in doing so.

"I was extremely sorry the parking plan did not go through," said Mr. Kent. "We are back to where we were a year or two ago. I am concerned not only with the downtown parking problem but the whole matter of the northern approaches to the city and the inner harbor. It is not a very tidy place."

He added: "Something should be done, and it has to be started by the city council."

Peter Bruton's Capital Notebook

Agent X-3 bought two bottles of a well-known seizer the other day—one "regular" and one "family" size.

Each bottle has a metal top marked "measuring cap" and each has the legend on top: "Fill cap, pour into half glass cool water."

And each label contains the information that: "Each measuring capful contains 1/2 grain Acetanilid, 1 1/2 grains Phenacetin B.P. and 3 grains Sodium Bromide."

The labels also instruct the user to "pour handy measuring capful of . . . granules into half a glass of cool water . . ."

But the cap on the small bottle holds about one-fifth less than the cap on the large bottle.

Agent X-3 reports: "The little money saved in buying the large bottle would more than likely be counteracted by using more of the seizer each time."

"Which one is the correct dose?"

I don't know, but you sure can see where he gets his headaches from!

INNEST STRUGGLE—Vancouver IWA Local 1-217 president Syd Thompson told us the other night that the Victoria IWA local should never have quit the Victoria Labor Council for what it considered fence-sitting on the question of political education and political action.

Mr. Thompson, who favors a more militant union action, told us it would have been better for the union to remain in the VLC and work toward its objectives from within.

PASSING PARADE: Surely it's time there were some rigidly enforced restrictions governing the removal of campaign posters after elections.

Some posters tacked to trees on the Island Highway during the recent Esquimalt-Saanich federal byelection are still there, marring the countryside.

It will be interesting to see whether there will remain as long as some we saw on the Alberni Highway this week.

They still urge voters to support a certain candidate in last September's provincial election.

One Case Of Polio In Nation

OTTAWA (CP) — The health department reported Friday there is one case of paralytic polio in Canada.

The report for the week ended June 10 said the only case is in Quebec. In the same period last year there were nine cases of polio and five at June 10, 1959.

There has been only one death in Canada so far this year compared with 11 last year and eight the year before.

Silver Drums Parade

Shit drove weather drew crowd estimated at 10,000 to Beacon Hill Park last night for presentation of ceremonial silver drums to BCN Pacific Command. Band of HMCS Madon trooped the new drums before Lieutenant-Governor George R. Pearkes, who made the gift on behalf of the province of B.C. and Greater Victoria municipalities. ### Honor Student 'Rotten Apple'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Overton Brooks of the U.S. House Space Committee called on the National Science Foundation Friday to revoke a $3,800 fellowship granted a student convicted of contempt for refusing to say whether he was a Communist. He is Edward Yell, 33, University of Illinois honor graduate student.

Rep. Charles Mosher, Ohio Republican, said he was opposed to limiting the freedom of scientists.

"I don't think scientists should become fearful about signing petitions and holding political opinions," he said. "They should not be made to feel gagged or bound to conform."

Meanwhile, a House subcommittee on un-American activities is checking names of possibly thousands of graduate students given government scholarships.

"When you find one rotten apple in the barrel," a subcommittee source said, "you reach in and look around for more."

Wife-Beater Spent Relief For Hairdo

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Robert Lee Evans' curly locks didn't impress Judge Christ T. Seraphim when Evans came before him yesterday charged with beating his wife and refusing to support his family.

Evans, 24, had been receiving $157.75 a month in county aid for himself and his family.

"Is it true you get your hair set in a beauty shop as reported?" the judge asked.

"Yes," Evans replied.

"How often and how much does it cost?" Seraphim asked.

"About once a month, for a dollar," Evans said.

"Once a week, your honor," his wife prompted.

Evans was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Sprinting Neighbor Catches Falling Baby

TRAIL (CP) — A mother sprinted 100 yards to catch a neighbor's 17-month-old baby as it fell out of a second-story window.

"Thank God I was there," said Mrs. Gavin Neil of nearby Shavers Beach in explaining how she caught Carlos Defreals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Defreals, as he fell 20 feet.

She said her son ran in yelling that the baby had started climbing out of the window and she raced over and reached her neighbor's just in time to catch the baby.

Mrs. Defreals was outside when the baby climbed the stairs and out the unsecured window.

DID SENATOR GET $37,000?

Nikita Killed All Hopes At Geneva

GENEVA (UPI) — The British said yesterday Nikita Khrushchev must bear the "frightening responsibility" for killing hopes for a nuclear test ban treaty at the three-nation Geneva conference.

Britain's David Ormsby-Gore made the indictment at the 300th meeting of the conference which began in October of 1958. The session lasted only 20 minutes.

Ormsby-Gore flew in from London yesterday to resume temporarily the post of chief British delegate in what British sources had said was a last-ditch effort to break the impasse. He endorsed firmly the rejection by the United States of the "ultimatum" Khrushchev gave in a memorandum to President Kennedy and which was read into the record here.

THREE VETOES

Khrushchev's memorandum had said the negotiations on a nuclear test ban must be concluded on the Soviet terms or merged in a general disarmament conference. The Soviet proposal would set up a three-member control authority with each holding veto power over the other two.

"If the memorandum really is the last word," Ormsby-Gore said, "then the truth would be that the Soviet government has brought an effective end to these negotiations."

MORE PESSIMISTIC

He said Khrushchev's "report to the people" radio and television address Thursday had made him "more pessimistic than before." And he added that he felt prospects for a successful outcome of the conference are "extremely dim."

But Ormsby-Gore said British support the United States in its determination not to break off the talks but to continue to sit patiently at the negotiating table in hopes that the Soviets might have a change of heart.

HENRI COURTEMACHE

Hospital 'Scandal'

MONTREAL (CP) — Remuald Belhumeur, former general manager of Jean Talon Hospital, testified Friday that Senator Henri Courtemanche at one time asked for and received 10 per cent of all federal and provincial government grants paid to the hospital.

Testifying before a three-man board of inquiry into the hospital's administration, Mr. Belhumeur said Sen. Courtemanche, former secretary of state in the Progressive Conservative government, received a total of $37,000.

He introduced as an exhibit a document listing cheques which he said were made out to Sen. Courtemanche or to cash which was paid to the senator.

CHEQUES MISSING

Of the total, he said, $5,000 was taken from the hospital's surgical fund in the period 1957-60 and $31,000 from the hospital building fund in the period 1958-59.

TAXES MOUNTING

Mr. Belhumeur, administrator of the hospital from its start in 1953 until 1956, said Jean Talon was started as a private hospital by Vancouver-born Dr. George Horl, who decided to convert it into a public hospital when "we found the taxes were mounting."

He said someone—he could not remember who—had suggested he see Sen. Courtemanche, the hospital's lawyer at the time of its incorporation and at one time a member of its board of directors.

'BIT EXPENSIVE'

Mr. Belhumeur testified: "The first time I saw him, Mr. Courtemanche said he would expect 10 per cent of the grants, it seemed a bit expensive but we received the grants and he was paid 10 per cent."

He said Sen. Courtemanche received two $10,000 cheques and two $4,500 cheques for grants given to the hospital during the period it was owned by Dr. Horl.

LOOKED AT CHEQUES

Georges-Marie Larose, accountant for the hospital, said the cancelled cheques or vouchers for them have been missing since the visit, some time ago, of an inspector from the federal income tax department.

He said the inspector, not identified, had looked at a number of cheques and particularly noted the ones issued to Sen. Courtemanche.

COULDN'T BE FOUND

Six weeks later, he said, a man came to him with a letter from Sen. Courtemanche asking that the cheques issued to the senator be shown to him.

Mr. Larose said the cancelled cheques or vouchers for them could not be found in hospital records.

Western Rights 'Solid' in Berlin

CHICAGO (UPI) — British Foreign Secretary Lord Home said yesterday that western rights in free Berlin cannot be taken away no matter what Nikita Khrushchev says or does.

The British foreign policy spokesman said, in reference to the Soviet dictator's demand for a Berlin treaty within six months, that "it is for Khrushchev to say whether he is going to make trouble in Berlin."

But Home said Britain and the United States will insist on the right of the people of West Berlin to "live the way they want to," on the right of the Western Allies to be there and on the right of access to the city.

POTENT WEAPON

In a luncheon address earlier, he cited Britain's colonialism and its attitude toward neutral nations as a potent weapon in the cold war.

Home said that since the Second World War, "British colonialism has established 10 fully independent nations in Asia and Africa."

PRY EMPIRE OPEN

"None of these countries," he said, "has sold itself out to the Communists."

Home said British colonialism is "an example in freedom which may be used to pry the Communist empire wide open."

In contrast, he said, wherever Communists impose their power, neutrality is killed. He said Soviet "peaceful coexistence" is a label to cover up "every form of political, economic and ideological warfare."

Hottest 16th On Record

Not only was yesterday the hottest day of the year in Victoria, it was also the hottest June 16 on record.

The weather office thermometer reached 81.3 degrees at Ganges Hill, breaking the 45-year June 16 record of 80.3 degrees in 1916. It was well into the 80s downtown.

Record high for June was 86 on June 25, 1928.

Forecast today — a little cooler.

Did Yuri Ride an Orbiting Bomber?

By ROBERT MURIEL

LONDON (UPI) — A British expert said yesterday Maj. Yuri Gagarin's space capsule may have been a modified version of the so-called "space skipper" bomber which the Russians have been working on for more than 12 years.

Some high American scientific sources believe the "space skipper" — which is intended to skip along the top of the atmosphere the way a stone ricochets across water — may soon become one of the secret weapons in the Soviet arsenal.

Dr. Herbert York, director of defence research, told the House appropriations committee in Washington that they anticipated the Russians were trying to produce such a plane — the equivalent of the American "Dyna-Soar" project.

But European space experts have known for a long time of the Soviet preoccupation with the space skipper. Leonard Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society, said his group has been aware of Russian experimentation in this field for years.

Gagarin may have re-entered the earth's atmosphere with a capsule which, in effect, was a stub-winged modification of the device, according to Carter.

The story of the "space skipper" — which may be one of the most important military weapons of the future — began with Dr. Eugen Sanger of Germany who suggested its possibilities in the Second World War.

Sanger now is head of an institute in Stuttgart which is devoted to research on advanced methods of rocket propulsion in such as the "plasma jet" which will enable rocket ships to hurtle about the universe in controlled flight at many thousands of miles an hour — if it can be perfected.

The late Josef Stalin was intrigued by the space skipper idea when he first heard of it from captured German scientists. He ordered priority work on the bomber.

But development hinged on some method for boosting the skipper into space. The power now is available in the immense Soviet booster rockets. One of these would release the space skipper above the atmosphere and it then would turn on its engines and by "skipping" circle the earth in about two hours — or more than 13,000 miles an hour.

It could, if used as an offensive weapon, deliver hydrogen bombs or other weapons of mass destruction at any target on earth. When its mission was completed, the skipper could descend through the atmosphere and fly to its home base.

Some British experts believe "mock-ups" of the skipper may have been fired in the Soviet test rockets.
